to be a fertile ground for architectural experimentation Each chapter presents a comparative analysis of two primary buildings a recent project paired with a historical precedent highlighting how architects in different eras have realized the distinctive effects of translucency The included buildings span a variety of program types ranging from a single family residence to a factory to a synagogue Whether it is Pierre Chareau s glass lens curtain wall at the Maison de Verre Frank Lloyd Wright s wall of stacked glass tubes at the Johnson Wax Research Tower or Peter Zumthor s use of acid etched glass in a double skin envelope at the Kunsthhaus Bregenz the included projects each offer an exemplary case study of innovations in materiality and fabrication techniques Today among many contemporary architects there is an engagement with new technologies new material assemblies and new priorities such as sustainability and energy efficiency A resurgent interest in translucency as a defining quality in buildings has been an important part of this recent dialogue and this book makes essential reading for any architect looking to incorporate aspects of translucency into their buildings Modern Sculpture

OR Architecture and Design at the Museum of Modern Art Thomas S. Hines, 2019-01-22 A comprehensive and fascinating look at the history of the Museum of Modern Art's Architecture and Design Department under the leadership of the influential curator Arthur Drexler Arthur Drexler 1921-1987 served as the curator and director of the Architecture and Design Department at the Museum of Modern Art (MoMA) from 1951 until 1986 the longest curatorship in the museum's history Over four decades he conceived and oversaw trailblazing exhibitions that not only reflected but also anticipated major stylistic developments Although several books cover the roles of MoMA's founding director Alfred Barr and the department's first curator Philip Johnson this is the only in-depth study of Drexler who gave the department its overall shape and direction During Drexler's tenure MoMA played a pivotal role in examining the work and confirming the reputations of twentieth-century architects among them Frank Lloyd Wright Le Corbusier Richard Neutra Marcel Breuer and Ludwig Mies van der Rohe Exploring unexpected subjects from the design of automobiles and industrial objects to a reconstruction of a Japanese house and garden Drexler's boundary pushing shows promoted new ideas about architecture and design as modern arts in contemporary society The department's public and educational programs projected a culture of popular accessibility offsetting MoMA's reputation as an elitist institution Drawing on rigorous archival research as well as author Thomas S. Hines's firsthand experience working with Drexler Architecture and Design at the Museum of Modern Art analyzes how MoMA became a touchstone for the practice and study of midcentury architecture

Remaking the World James Roy King, 1996 In Remaking the World James Roy King weaves together strands of thought creating a tapestry that mirrors John Dewey's pragmatism of sufficiencies King uses the concept of activity sets relatively stable combinations of activities that characterize every large scale human enterprise to explain how modeling can help people make sense of the world around them
