Stirling City:

Magalia to Stirling City Robert Colby, Lois McDonald, 2005 The West Branch of the Feather River in northern Butte County was once a rich mining region In 1859 an incredible 54 pound gold nugget washed from the flanks of Sawmill Peak named for the ridge's other main industry logging An intricate web of stage roads and later railroads linked the little mining and lumber towns that dotted these peaks covered in giant white and ponderosa pine Steam engines hauled huge logs to mills like the Diamond Match Company crossing steep canyons on wooden trestles stretched to heart stopping heights Some early mining towns like Magalia once known as Dogtown site of the gargantuan nugget and Stirling City are still there Others like Nimsheew Lovelock Toadtown Powellton Chaparral Coutelenc and Inskip are ghost towns inhabiting only the photographs that memorialize their short heyday

Chico Debra Moon, 2003 In what has emerged as one of the most desirable places to live at the turn of this new century the journey of Chico since its inception is one of growth as well as remembrance A rich cultural heritage is as responsible for development of this diverse community as its fertile soils were in creating an economic stronghold From the traditions and teachings of the Mechoopda Indians to its present day reputation as an educational bastion Chico serves as a backbone of the budding Central Valley

Plymouth Jeremy Gould, 2015-04-01 Post war reconstruction offered unparalleled opportunities to the developing profession of urban planners to cast off the constraints imposed by historic infrastructure and produce a new vision of urban living expressed in rationally designed city centres linked to suburban precincts and with modern integrated transport systems Plymouth is the foremost English example of post war reconstruction on the grand scale laid out to the designs of the most influential urban planner of the day Sir Patrick Abercrombie This book explains the circumstances which led to the development of Abercrombie's Plan for Plymouth 1943 and shows how the plan was implemented in the period 1945-62 Discussion of the overall scheme for the renewed city is complemented by description of the different zones which made up both the central area and the new suburbs and attention is paid to the landscape forms and architectural styles employed in civic commercial and residential areas The significance of what was achieved in Plymouth will be assessed and international context is provided by comparison with British and European examples of contemporary planning Urban regeneration programmes pose a threat to the legacy of the post war reconstruction period and the listing of post war buildings is often contentious and contested Finally a discussion of the conservation issues raised by present day plans for renewal in Plymouth will contribute to current debate about the formulation of policy relating to the buildings and landscapes of the post war era
