Taxation In The European Community The Small Business Perspective:

Taxation in the European Community Graham Bannock, 1990-03-30 Study on the implications of taxation on small and medium sized companies in the European Community in two parts The first part deals with the general tax structures in the EC and their contributions to government revenues Comparisons are included with Japan Switzerland and the USA The second part examines the compliance burden of the VAT system upon SMEs in the EC and recommends how this might be lightened It then examines the implications for SMEs of the changes proposed by the Commission to indirect taxes VAT and excise duties to come into effect with the 1992 Internal Market The Political Economy of Economic Freedom Alan T. Peacock, 1997-01-01

The captivating nature of these contributions to political economy which were all published between 1976 and 1996 but mostly in the last decade is a clear reflection of Sir Alan's authoritative standing both as an academic economist and a government economic advisor the book addresses a wide range of philosophical questions and practical policy issues thus offering plenty of stimulating material for both the theoretical and applied economist as well as other social scientists M Teresa Lunati The Economic Journal many of the papers are worth reading and each paper has a useful introduction explaining the context in which it was written The best part of the book is the selection of papers in the last part especially his Alan Peacock's discussions of the regulation of broadcasting There is much for an economist to learn from these papers the role economists can play in public policy debates the inner workings of committees the role of information control in policy decisions William Sjostrom Kyklos The Political Economy of Economic Freedom brings together a timely selection of Sir Alan Peacock's views on economic freedom its philosophy its influence on the critique of economic policy and the problems encountered in expanding it EU Corporate Law and EU Company Tax Law Luca Cerioni, 2007-01-01

With the European Union striving to become the world's most competitive economy the developments in the two closely interconnected areas of European corporate law and European company tax law are of utmost importance This book focuses on the crucial issues raised by these developments on their far reaching implications and on the key challenges to the future legislative choices The book illustrates the key developments in EU corporate law and EU company tax law the EU planned initiatives in these areas and at a time when member states increasingly tend to use company law and company tax provisions to attract businesses and investments it suggests how future developments can contribute to the undistorted functioning of the internal market and to the strategic Lisbon objective The explanation of these legislative and case law developments is of use to students and indicates new opportunities for business expansion strategies throughout the European Community The book concludes that new optional but attractive EU company law vehicles and company tax regimes would be in these two areas the only legal and effective means towards an undistorted functioning of the internal market and towards the Lisbon objective This ultimately gives rise to a far reaching challenge for all debates on the future patterns of European integration Luca Cerioni introduces new themes for academic research and discussion subjects for decision makers and at the same time uniquely makes these accessible to a much wider international public of students businesses and practitioners

Taxation Simon R. James, Simon James, 2002 Corporate Tax Base in the Light of the IAS/IFRS and EU Directive 2013/34: A Comparative Approach Mario Grandinetti, 2016-06-17 The recent relaunch of the European Commission's Common Consolidated Corporate Tax Base CCCTB project promises a sorely needed leap forward in the harmonization of the rules by which companies calculate their taxable profits In particular the initiative hopes to remedy the severe barrier to cross border business caused by the the accounting Tower of Babel by which companies tax bases are determined under national law This thorough analysis and commentary covers the influence of accounting rules on tax considering both generally accepted standards international accounting standards IAS and international financial reporting standards IFRS and EU Directive 2013/34 Three introductory chapters usher in detailed comparative overviews of the effect of these rules on taxation in nine EU Member States as well as in two other major EU trading partners the United States and Brazil Fully explaining the remarkable recent improvement in the comparability of accounts that represent favourable preconditions for creating a single market for financial services within the EU this book covers every relevant detail including the following and much more criterion of evaluation of alternative fixed assets based on revaluated amounts criterion based on fair value provisions applicable to income statements notes reports and financial statements rules applicable to the publication of documents transparency in payments to governments dispositions on exemptions hierarchy of general provisions and principles balance sheet and profit and loss account simplifications for small and medium sized enterprises SMEs system of creditors protection and protection of investors interests This book is a peerless explication of the taxation choices granted to Member States under IAS IFRS and EU Directive 2013/34 and how they will be affected by ongoing Commission initiatives Because relevant timely reliable and comparable information assumes a leading role in protecting the interests of investors creditors and other stakeholders as well as in ensuring that all operators act on a level playing field under equal conditions the analysis presented here is of immeasurable value to lawyers business persons and officials concerned with taxation not only in Europe but anywhere within the reach of international trade European Community Approach to Testing and Certification United States.
