Taxi Blues:

The Zero Hour Andrew Horton, Michael Brashinsky, 2021-03-09 Now faced with the zero hour created by a new freedom of expression and the dramatic breakup of the Soviet Union Soviet cinema has recently become one of the most interesting in the world aesthetically as well as politically How have Soviet filmmakers responded to the challenges of glasnost To answer this question the American film scholar Andrew Horton and the Soviet critic Michael Brashinsky offer the first book length study of the rapid changes in Soviet cinema that have been taking place since 1985 What emerges from their collaborative dialogue is not only a valuable work of film criticism but also a fascinating study of contemporary Soviet culture in general Horton and Brashinsky examine a wide variety of films from BOMZH initials standing for homeless drifter through Taxi Blues and the glasnost blockbuster Little Vera to the Latvian documentary Is It Easy to Be Young and the new wave productions of the Wild Kazakh boys The authors argue that the medium that once served the Party became a major catalyst for the deconstruction of socialism especially through documentary filmmaking Special attention is paid to how filmmakers from 1985 through 1990 represent the newly discovered past of the pre glasnost era and how they depict troubled youth and conflicts over the role of women in society The book also emphasizes the evolving uses of comedy and satire and the incorporation of genre film techniques into a new popular cinema An intriguing discussion of films of Georgia Estonia Latvia Lithuania and Kazakhstan ends the work

Russian Critics on the Cinema of Glasnost Michael Brashinsky, Andrew Horton, 1994-09-30 Russian Critics on the Cinema of Glasnost gathers together 23 essays written by some of Russia's most astute commentators of film and culture Written during the 1980s and published in English for the first time this collection includes reviews of films such as Little Vera and Taxi Blues which were critically hailed in the West Their comments not only illuminate important aspects of Russian filmmaking during this decade as importantly they capture a sense of a society in flux during the waning years of Communism as well as the larger context within which Glasnost cinema and culture developed This collection provides insight into the successes and shortcomings of Glasnost as captured in film for a Western audience

Taxi Blues Iva Pekárková, 2017-09 Taxi blues, 2001 From Moscow to Madrid Ewa Mazierska, Laura Rascaroli, 2002-10-24 Travelling from Warsaw to Blackpool Marseilles to Madrid this lively and accessible book investigates the postmodern nature of contemporary Europe's urban life and cinema and shows how European films represent the cities across old and new Europe Interdisciplinary in approach the text engages with diverse films including Luna Park Run Lola Run Trainspotting Wonderland and many more It tackles the issues of postmodernity raised by these films and the changes wrought in European cities since the 1980s under the effects of political change from the post communist era in Moscow and Berlin to the effects of Thatcherism in Edinburgh and London

World Film Locations: Moscow Birgit Beumers, 2014-04-15 A megalopolis of more than twelve million inhabitants Moscow is a city with a rich and varied history In 1918 following the Revolution Moscow became the capital of the Soviet Union and it remained capital of the Russian Federation after 1991 Moscow's status as capital from 1918 to the present more or less coincides with its life on the silver screen since there are very few preserved filmic depictions of the city from pre Revolutionary years In the Soviet era film often served propaganda purposes therefore the image of Moscow on celluloid echoes the political ambitions of the country and film locations and settings reflect the cultural agenda of the times World Film Locations Moscow compares and contrasts images from the past and present giving the forty six carefully selected scene reviews and seven spotlight essays a historical focus With an inside look at the city's film studio Mosfilm the book is essential for all armchair travellers and cinephiles alike

Directory of World Cinema: Russia 2 Birgit Beumers, 2015-02-20 Soviet and Russian filmmakers have traditionally had uneasy relationships to the concept of genre This volume rewrites that history by spotlighting some genres not commonly associated with cinema in the region including Cold War spy movies and science fiction films blockbusters and horror films remakes and adventure films and chernukha films and serials Introductory essays establish key aspects of these genres and directors biographies provide the background for the key players Building on the work of its predecessor which explored cinema from the time of the tsars to the Putin era this book will be warmly received by the serious film scholar as well as all those who love Russian cinema Directory of World Cinema Russia 2 is an essential companion to the filmic legacy of one of the world's most storied countries The Europeanness of European Cinema Mary Harrod, Mariana Liz, Alissa Timoshkina, 2014-12-19 From The Artist to The White Ribbon from Oscar to Palme d'Or winning productions European filmmaking is more prominent world wide than ever before This book identifies the distinctive character of European cinema both in films and as a critical concept asking what place does European cinema have in an increasingly globalized world Including in depth analyses of production and reception contexts as well as original readings of key European films from leading experts in the field it re negotiates traditional categories such as auteurism art cinema and national cinemas As the first publication to explore Europeanness in cinema this book refocuses and updates historically significant areas of study in relation to this term Leading scholars in European cinema including Thomas Elsaesser Tim Bergfelder Anne Jackel Lucy Mazdon and Ginette Vincendeau acknowledge the transnational character of European filmmaking whilst also exploring the oppositions between European and Hollywood filmmaking considering the value of the European label in the circulation of films within and beyond the continent The Europeanness of European Cinema makes a lively timely intervention in the fields of European and transnational film studies The City in Russian Culture Pavel Lyssakov, Stephen Norris, 2018-04-19 Cities are constructed and organized by people and in turn become an important factor in the organization of human life They are sites of both social encounter and social division and provide for their inhabitants a sense of place This book explores the nature of Russian cities outlining the role played by various Russian cities over time It focuses on a range of cities including provincial cities considering both physical iconic created cities and also cities as represented in films fiction and other writing Overall the book provides a rich picture of the huge variety of Russian cities Western Echoes in Arabic Voices Rashid Yahiaoui, 2023-11-13 This book is not just about the linguistic translation process it delves deeper into the socio cultural journey the unique challenges faced and the broader implications of this cross cultural exchange It stands out for its novel perspective taking the readers on a fascinating journey from the humorous undertones of Monsters Inc to the satirical edges of The Simpsons and Family Guy It uncovers the intricate process of dubbing and transcreating Western audiovisual content into Arabic highlighting how visuals irony and stereotypes interplay in this complex process It offers readers insights into the world of media translation and cultural adaptation in Arabic making it a compelling read for linguists translators media scholars cultural enthusiasts and anyone intrigued by the intersection of language culture and humour It is a unique blend of academic research and engaging storytelling that will leave readers with a newfound appreciation for the art of dubbing and the cultural nuances it negotiates Blockbuster History in the New Russia Stephen M. Norris, 2012-10-19 Seeking to rebuild the Russian film industry after its post Soviet collapse directors and producers sparked a revival of nationalist and patriotic sentiment by applying Hollywood techniques to themes drawn from Russian history Unsettled by the government's move toward market capitalism Russians embraced these historical blockbusters packing the American style multiplexes that sprouted across the country Stephen M Norris examines the connections among cinema politics economics history and patriotism in the creation of blockbuster history the adaptation of an American cinematic style to Russian historical epics

Topics in Audiovisual Translation Pilar Orero, 2004-10-20 The late twentieth century transition from a paper oriented to a media oriented society has triggered the emergence of Audiovisual Translation as the most dynamic and fastest developing trend within Translation Studies The growing interest in this area is a clear indication that this discipline is going to set the agenda for the theory research training and practice of translation in the twenty first century Even so this remains a largely underdeveloped field and much needs to be done to put Screen Translation Multimedia Translation or the wider implications of Audiovisual Translation on a par with other fields within Translation Studies In this light this collection of essays reflects not only the state of the art in the research and teaching of Audiovisual Translation but also the professionals experiences The different contributions cover issues ranging from reflections on professional activities to theory the impact of ideology on Audiovisual Translation and the practices of teaching and researching this new and challenging discipline In expanding further the ground covered by the John Benjamins book Multi Media Translation 2001 this book seeks to provide readers with a deeper insight into some of the specific concepts problems aims and terminology of Audiovisual Translation and by this token to make these specificities emerge from within the wider nexus of Translation Studies Film Studies and Media Studies In a quickly developing technical audiovisual world Audiovisual Translation Studies is set to become the academic field that will address the complex cultural issues of a pervasively media oriented society Moscow Diary Marjorie Farquharson, 2018-03-28 This is the diary kept by Marjorie during the period in which she established Amnesty International's Information Office in Moscow This was a unique venture for AI during a period of change When Marjorie set up an Amnesty International's office in Moscow in 1991 she was the first westerner working on human rights with a permanent base there Encyclopedia of Contemporary Russian Culture Tatiana Smorodinskaya, Karen

Evans-Romaine, Helena Goscilo, 2013-10-28 This addition to the highly successful Contemporary Cultures series covers the period from period 1953 with the death of Stalin to the present day Both Russian and Culture are defined broadly Russian refers to the Soviet Union until 1991 and the Russian Federation after 1991 Given the diversity of the Federation in its ethnic composition and regional characteristics questions of national regional and ethnic identity are given special attention There is also coverage of Russian speaking immigrant communities Culture embraces all aspects of culture and lifestyle high and popular artistic and material art fashion literature music cooking transport politics and economics film crime all and much else are covered in order to give a full picture of the Russian way of life and experience throughout the extraordinary changes undergone since the middle of the twentieth century The Encyclopedia of Contemporary Russian Culture is an unbeatable resource on recent and contemporary Russian culture and history for students teachers and researchers across the disciplines Apart from academic libraries the book will also be a valuable acquisition for public libraries Entries include cross references and the larger ones carry short bibliographies There is a full index Border Crossing Alexander Burry,2016-04-08 Each time a border is crossed there are cultural political and social issues to be considered Applying the metaphor of the border crossing from one temporal or spatial territory into another Border Crossing Russian Literature into Film examines the way classic Russian texts have been altered to suit new cinematic environments In these essays international scholars examine how political and economic circumstances from a shifting Soviet political landscape to the perceived demands of American and European markets have played a crucial role in dictating how filmmakers transpose their cinematic hypertext into a new environment Rather than focus on the degree of accuracy or fidelity with which these films address their originating texts this innovative collection explores the role of ideological political and other cultural pressures that can affect the transformation of literary narratives into cinematic offerings The Encyclopedia of Musicians and Bands on Film Melissa Ursula Dawn Goldsmith,Paige A.
