Tchipayuk Or The Way Of The Wolf:

Tchipayuk, Or, The Way of the Wolf Ronald Lavallée, 1994 A sweeping historical novel about the collision of Native and colonial cultures

Writing between the Lines Agnes Whitfield, 2006-03-03 The essays in Writing between the Lines explore the lives of twelve of Canada's most eminent anglophone literary translators and delve into how these individuals have contributed to the valuable process of literary exchange between francophone and anglophone literatures in Canada. Through individual portraits this book traces the events and life experiences that have led W H Blake John Glassco Philip Stratford Joyce Marshall Patricia Claxton Doug Jones Sheila Fischman Ray Ellenwood Barbara Godard Susanne de Lotbinière Harwood John Van Burek and Linda Gaboriau into the complex world of literary translation. Each essay portrait examines why they chose to translate and what linguistic and cultural challenges they have faced in the practice of their art. Following their relationships with authors and publishers the translators also reveal how they have defined the goals and the process of literary translation. Containing original detailed biographical and bibliographical material Writing between the Lines offers many new insights into the literary translation process and the diverse roles of the translator as social agent. The first text on Canadian translators it makes a major contribution in the areas of literary translation comparative literature Canadian literature and cultural studies.

Translation Review, 1995 Metis Pioneers Doris Jeanne MacKinnon, 2018-03-15 In Metis Pioneers Doris Jeanne MacKinnon compares the survival strategies of two Metis women born during the fur trade: one from the French speaking free trade tradition and one from the English speaking Hudson's Bay Company tradition who settled in southern Alberta as the Canadian West transitioned to a sedentary agricultural and industrial economy. MacKinnon provides rare insight into their lives demonstrating the contributions Metis women made to the building of the Prairie West. This is a compelling tale of two women's acts of quiet resistance in the final days of the British Empire.

The Identities of Marie Rose Delorme Smith Doris Jeanne MacKinnon, 2012 This book relates the history and self-identifying process of a Metis woman who lived on the western plains of Canada during the transitional period from fur trade to sedentary agricultural economy. Marie Rose Delorme Smith was a woman of French Metis ancestry who was born during the fur trade era and who spent her adult years as a pioneer rancher in the Pincher Creek district of southern Alberta. Sold by her mother at the age of sixteen to a robe and whiskey trader several years older than her, Marie Rose went on to raise seventeen children, establish a boarding house, take a homestead, serve as medicine woman and midwife, and to publish several articles in the early prairie ranch periodical Canadian Cattleman. The author relies on close readings of these articles as well as the diaries, manuscripts, and fictional writing of Marie Rose Delorme Smith along with personal interviews with her descendants. These sources allow a close examination of the self-identifying process for Marie Rose as she negotiated the changing environment of the western plains during the late 1800s and early 1900s when large numbers of Anglo-speaking immigrants settled in the area. Clearly proud of her Metis identity, Marie Rose was a member of an extended family who served as Louis Riel's soldiers and she presented that identity tentatively in her own writings. Roles which Marie Rose assumed with pride were those of author, historian, mother, and historical character, and these roles serve as themes from which to examine her life.
