Sculpture and Psychoanalysis Brandon Taylor, 2017-07-05 Just what do psychoanalysis and modern sculpture have to do with one another The present collection of essays unique in its field shows how key metaphors of Freudian and Kleinian psychoanalysis splitting projection sublimation identification the schizoid and reparative mechanisms as well as Lacan's concepts of the stade du miroir and the objet petit a can be fruitfully applied to a range of modern three dimensional art from Surrealism to the present day As these essays show figures such as Barbara Hepworth Eva Hesse Jean Jacques Lebel Robert Morris Donald Judd Gilbert and George Rebecca Horn and others have often approached the material of sculpture with something like these mechanisms in mind The need to unlock the levels of psychoanalytic connection between artist object and viewer in recent debate has fuelled the diverse proposals of this original and important book

Breaking the Ice GC Burnell, Many suggestions and recommendations in this line to kick start your new life Comments on education generally also included I first of all point out that when you think of people who clearly give performances as their job e.g. actors, singers, comedians, they obviously have to do a lot of preparation for their performances. I then hit you with the realisation that when we are socialising we are in fact giving a performance. The logical conclusion is that we should really be doing quite a bit of preparation for our socialising to improve our conversation skills primarily. And that's what the course is mainly about: showing you how to use a certain amount of time each day preparing yourself for your socialising experiences e.g. advice on what type of reading is best for improving conversation skills. And for instance, giving ourselves ammunition for that first meeting.
