

TEACH YOURSELF®

The background of the cover is an underwater photograph. At the top, there's a bright, sunlit surface with visible ripples and light rays filtering down. Below this, a dark, semi-circular shape, likely the sun or moon, is partially submerged. The word 'philosophy' is written in a large, white, serif font, with the top half of the letters appearing to be above the dark shape and the bottom half below it, creating a visual effect of the word being seen through the water.
