Teachers Guides To Inclusive Practices Studentdirected Learning:

Student-directed Learning Martin Agran,2003 Instructions for helping students with mild moderate or severe disabilities learn self monitoring self evaluation self instruction problem solving goal setting and other student directed learning strategies Visual Support for Children with Autism Spectrum Disorders Vera Bernard-Opitz,Anne Häussler,2011 Combining their years of experience working with individuals on the autism spectrum the authors bring practical ideas and teaching methods for offering visual supports to students with autism spectrum disorders Self-instruction Pedagogy Dennis E. Mithaug,2007 This book describes a method of teaching that fosters autonomous learning in all students including students with disabilities The pedagogy is based on decades of research on strategy instruction as well as on a theory of learning that claims these four conditions promote self determined learning in all learners 1 opportunities to choose expectations for gaining something from a learning challenge 2 strategies that regulate responses to meet those expectations 3 comparisons between results and expectations that provoke additional adjustment in expectations and responses and 4 persistent engagement and adjustment until results match expectations The pedagogy of self instruction described in this book anchors these conditions in everyday instruction so students can learn by adjusting to their own expectations Chapter 1 compares this approach to the teacher directed methods of direct instruction that require teachers to set expectations for students control how students respond to them evaluate the outcomes they produce and then prescribe adjustments students must make to improve Chapter 2 provides evidence that too much of special education instruction reflects this teacher directed approach and as a consequence discourages students from learning how to learn on their own Chapters 3 6 identify four ways to shift learning control from teachers to students and Chapters 7 and 8 identify the obstacles to achieving this instructional shift in special education The appendices of the book provide a bibliography of research on self instruction and direct instruction pedagogies and a validated self assessment that can evaluate the directedness of your teaching

The Road Ahead D. Hunter, K. Storey, 2013-12-11 Successful transition from school to adult life has always been difficult for people with disabilities, especially in the area of employment. The vast majority of people with disabilities are either unemployed or underemployed with low wages and few benefits, and many governments are struggling to find a way of providing employment and benefits to people with disabilities without creating disincentives to work. This book provides strategies and ideas for improving the lives of people with disabilities, exploring new ways of enabling a successful transition to an integrated adult working life by providing effective instruction and support. Following an introduction which outlines the importance of transition services and meaningful outcomes, topics covered in the remaining chapters include: Person Centered Transition Planning, Enhancing Competence and Independence, Employment Assessment and Career Development, Collaboration between Agencies for a Seamless Transition, Independent Living and Supported Living, and Community Functioning Skills. The book will be of interest to all those who work with transition age students as well as those who work with adults with disabilities and want to enable them to have the best life possible. To paraphrase Helen Keller, people with disabilities not only need to be given lives, they need to be given lives worth living. Self-Determination Michael L. Wehmeyer, Sharon L. Field, 2007-01-05 This teacher friendly guide presents research proven instructional techniques that empower students with disabilities to become their own advocates and use effective choice making, problem solving and goal
