The North American Muslim Resource Guide Mohamed Nimer,2002 First Published in 2003 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Muslim Youth Mohammad Siddique Seddon,Fauzia Ahmad,2012-01-12 Many Muslim societies regardless of location are displaying a youth bulge where more than half their populations are under the age of 25 An increasingly globalized western culture is rapidly eroding traditional ideas about society from the family to the state At the same time there is a view that rampant materialism is creating a culture of spiritual emptiness in which demoralization and pessimism easily find root For young Muslims these challenges may be compounded by a growing sense of alienation as they face competing ideologies and divergent lifestyles

Muslim youth are often idealized as the future of Islam or stigmatized as rebelling against their parental values and suffering identity crises. These experiences can produce both positive and negative reactions from intellectual engagement and increasing spiritual maturity to emotional rejectionism, narrow identity politics, and violent extremism. This book addresses many of the central issues currently facing young Muslims in both localized and globalized contexts through engaging with the work of academics, youth work practitioners, and those working in non-governmental organizations and civic institutions.

Making European Muslims Mark Sedgwick, 2014-09-19. Making European Muslims provides an in-depth examination of what it means to be a young Muslim in Europe today where the assumptions, values, and behavior of the family and those of the majority society do not always coincide. Focusing on the religious socialization of Muslim children at home in semi-private Islamic spaces such as mosques and Quran schools and in public schools, the original contributions to this volume focus largely on countries in northern Europe with a special emphasis on the Nordic region, primarily Denmark. Case studies demonstrate the ways that family life, public education, and government policy intersect in the lives of young Muslims and inform their developing religious beliefs and practices. Mark Sedgwick's introduction provides a framework for theorizing Muslimness in the European context, arguing that Muslim children must navigate different and sometimes contradictory expectations and demands on their way to negotiating a European Muslim identity. *The Papers of the Henry Luce III Fellows in Theology, with a Foreword by Martin E.
