The Fly Fishing 41st Around The World On The 41st Parallel:

Fly-Fishing the 41st James Prosek, 2003-03-04 One day I left in a straight line from home at 41 Kachele Street east along the 41st parallel following my passion for fish. It was a journey not only away from home but toward it which is the beauty of traveling in a circle and the irony of adventure. This suited me for in the event that I strayed as I would likely take some latitude with the latitude as long as I could find my way back to the 41st parallel I would not get lost. James Prosek The New York Times has called James Prosek the Audubon of the fishing world and in Fly Fishing the 41st he uses words and color to bring to life an astonishing adventure around the world. Beginning in his hometown of Easton Connecticut Prosek circumnavigated the globe along the 41st parallel. Home of Spain Greece Turkey Armenia Kyrgyzstan China and Japan marched over and fought for by Marco Polo Genghis Khan and Alexander the Great it contains some of the great cities and great fishing of the world. As he traveled the globe along the latitude of his hometown he was surprised to find through his love of fishing a connection with the people and cultures he encountered. Prosek finds fish in country streams and city rivers even the Seine in cosmopolitan Paris once severely polluted is now teeming with life. Several of the streams he fishes in Turkey and the Balkans bring him through areas of turmoil and in countries where fishing is done for food instead of enjoyment he is often greeted with puzzlement but throughout he is at home on the water. From the meadows of Connecticut to the minefields of the Balkans to the fringe of the Gobi Desert in Mongolia and small mountain streams in the Shiretoko Peninsula of Hokkaido Japan Fly Fishing the 41st the journey of a fisherman captures with words and colors the humanity and shared love of fishing. Prosek's beautiful watercolors are the perfect complement to this amazing work of discovery.

Fly-Fishing the 41st James Prosek, 2009-10-13 James Prosek has eloquently demonstrated that angling is a kind of universal language he has taken us on an unforgettable journey. Thomas McGuane author of The Cadence of Grass and The Longest Silence A Life in Fishing The New York Times has called James Prosek the Audubon of the fishing world and in Fly Fishing the 41st he uses his talent for descriptive writing to illuminate an astonishing adventure. Beginning in his hometown of Easton Connecticut Prosek circumnavigates the globe along the 41st parallel traveling through Spain Greece Turkey Armenia Kyrgyzstan China and Japan. Along the way he shares some of the best fishing in the world with a host of wonderfully eccentric and memorable characters.

Traveling the 38th Parallel David Carle, Janet Carle, 2013-04-03 Between extremes of climate farther north and south the 38th North parallel line marks a temperate middle latitude where human societies have thrived since the beginning of civilization. It divides North and South Korea passes through Athens and San Francisco and bisects Mono Lake in the eastern Sierra Nevada where authors David and Janet Carle make their home. Former park rangers the authors set out on an around the world journey in search of water related environmental and cultural intersections along the 38th parallel. This book is a chronicle of their adventures as they meet people confronting challenges in water supply pollution wetlands loss and habitat protection. At the heart of the narrative are the riveting stories of the passionate individuals scientists educators and local activists who are struggling to preserve some of the world's most amazing yet threatened landscapes Traveling largely outside of cities away from well beaten tourist tracks the authors cross Japan Korea China Turkmenistan Turkey Greece Sicily Spain Portugal the Azores Islands and the United States from Chesapeake Bay to San Francisco Bay The stories they gather provide stark contrasts as well as reaffirming similarities across diverse cultures Generously illustrated with maps and photos Traveling the 38th Parallel documents devastating environmental losses but also inspiring gains made through the efforts of dedicated individuals working against the odds to protect these fragile places MotorBoating, 2003-08 Tight Lines Joseph Furia, 2007-01-01 Featuring original artwork this anthology on the experience of fishing presents a selection of 50 stories recollections essays and poems featured in the Yale Anglers Journal during its first remarkable decade The Readers' Advisory Guide to Nonfiction Neal

The Day My Mother Left James Prosek, 2009-03-10 When his mother leaves to live with another man nine year old Jeremy faces his own pain and loss his father's depression and sister's distance the pity of friends and strangers and his father's remarriage two years later finding solace in fishing and his artwork Ulaanbaatar beyond Water and Grass M. A. Aldrich, 2018-03-02 Ulaanbaatar beyond Water and Grass is the first book in the English language that takes the visitors to an in depth exploration of the capital of Mongolia In the first section of the book M A Aldrich paints a detailed portrait of the history religion and architecture of Ulaanbaatar with reference to how the city evolved from a monastic settlement to a communist inspired capital and finally to a major city of free wheeling capitalism and Tammany Hall politics The second section of the book offers the reader a tour of different sites within the city and beyond bringing back to life the human dramas that have played themselves out on the stage of Ulaanbaatar Where most guide books often lightly discuss the capital Ulaanbaatar beyond Water and Grass A Guide to the Capital of Mongolia reveals much that remains hidden from the temporary visitor and even from the long term resident Writing in a quirky idiosyncratic style the author shares his appreciation and delight in this unique urban setting indeed in all things Mongolian The book finally does justice to one of the most neglected cultural capitals in Asia Combining history ethnography architecture city planning and folklore with a delightful dash of irony and personal opinion Michael Aldrich's Ulaanbaatar beyond Water and Grass is an authoritative introduction to Mongolia's capital city For first time visitors or long term academics this is quite simply the best book available on Ulaanbaatar Jack Weatherford author of Genghis Khan and the Making of the Modern World The charm of this superb guide to Mongolia's mysterious capital is the exuberance and love the author bestows on his subject Michael Aldrich's erudition is profound and all embracing and he is as comfortable discussing abstruse aspects of Buddhism as he is the city's history from its pastoral and feudal origins through Manchu suzerainty to Soviet communism to the wild capitalism of the present day He never misses the opportunity for a colourful and amusing anecdote or tidbit of scandal to relish an obscure custom to delight in the spice in a local dish or to pause and admire the beauty of a particular artwork building or monument The prose rings with his idiosyncratic personality knowledgeable urbane and sceptical sometimes downright cynical but always passionate and committed Carrying this book through Ulaanbaatar's streets or curling into its pages on a sofa at home he is the perfect companion squeezing stories out of ancient stones conjuring ghosts and elegantly baring the city's soul Ulaanbaatar beyond Water and Grass will become as great a classic of travel literature for Central Asia as J G Links's Venice for Pleasure was for Europe Adam Williams author of The Palace of Heavenly Pleasure Destined to become the quintessential introduction to Ulaanbaatar not only in terms of the wealth of information but also in terms of the sympathetic understanding and humour the author shares with the reader Genghis Khan would have loved it Bill Porter author of Road to Heaven Encounters with Chinese Hermits and Finding Them Gone Visiting China's Poets of the Past Michael Aldrich's guide to Ulaanbaatar reveals a city of religion of revolution and latterly of bold new experiment It is both a journey through the city of today as well as an imagining of the historical city now lost to development Paul French author of The Old Shanghai A Z This is an interesting and illuminating book providing fascinating details on the history and evolution of Mongolia's capital and largest city It should definitely be included on the essential reading list for anyone living or working in Mongolia Jonathan Addleton Executive Director of American Center for Mongolian Studies former US Ambassador to Mongolia author of Mongolia and the United States A Diplomatic History Field and Stream ,2003 Fifty Places to Fly Fish Before You Die Chris Santella,2012-11-16 Amateur or expert every angler dreams of landing the big one but that's only part of the appeal of fly fishing Because even when hours pass without a bite nothing beats the rugged beauty of the surroundings For both armchair travelers and avid outdoorsmen who may have already started a checklist of their own Fifty Places to Fly Fish Before You Die maps out the meccas of the fly fishing world Through in depth interviews with the sport's acknowledged gurus author Chris Santella goes beyond standard guides to convey the very essence of the recommended locations Readers
