The History of Opposition to Blood Sports in Twentieth Century England Michael Tichelar, 2016-12 An inter disciplinary social history this book examines the major pressures and influences that brought about the growth of opposition to hunting in twentieth century England Based on a range of cultural social literary and political sources drawn from history sociology geography psychology and anthropology Opposition to Blood Sports in Twentieth Century England accounts for the change in our relationship with non human animals Shedding light on the manner in which this resulted in the growth in opposition to hunting and other blood sports it will appeal to those in social sciences and historians with interests in human animal relations

Nature, Technology and Cultural Change in Twentieth-Century German Literature A. Goodbody, 2007-10-24 This book traces shifting attitudes towards science and technology nature and the environment in Twentieth century Germany It approaches them through discussion of a range of literary texts and explores the philosophical influences on them and their political contexts and asks what part novels and plays have played in environmental debate

Culture, Creativity and Environment Fiona Becket, Terry Gifford, 2007 Culture Creativity and Environment New Environmentalist Criticism is a collection of new work which examines the intersection between philosophy literature visual art film and the environment at a time of environmental crisis This book is unusual in the way in which the imaginative creative element is privileged notwithstanding the creativity of rigorous cultural criticism Genuinely interdisciplinary this book aims to be inclusive in its discussions of diverse cultural media different literary genres art forms and film for instance which offer thoughtful and thought provoking critiques of our relationships with the environment Our ability to transcend the ethical and aesthetic categories and discourses that have contributed to our alienation from our environment is dependant upon an enlargement of our imaginative capacities In a modest way this book might contribute to what Ted Hughes speaking of the imagination of each new child described as nature's chance to correct culture's error Proceedings North American Society for Sport History, 2004 Ecology and Management of Coppice Woodlands G.P. Buckley, 2012-12-06 Contributed to by leading experts this book looks at the history of coppice woodlands their physical environment the different management techniques used and their effects on the flora and fauna The implications of this for conservation is controversial and this is debated in a lively way in many of the chapters Revealing Rural "Others" Paul Milbourne, 1997-01-01 Focuses on how certain constructs are bound up with ideas of tradition power and conformity and have become privileged over other constructs Provides examples of the experiences of certain marginalized groups within rural areas explores the activities of a number of groups that have attempted to challenge mainstream perceptions and usage and considers changing rural power structures and some key confrontations between new rural residents and traditional elites Among the topics are re negotiating the boundaries of race and citizenship rural pollution and environmental others hunt followers diverging voices in a rural Welsh community and gendered experiences of community in village life Distributed in the US by Books International Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Species Dispersal in Agricultural Habitats Robert Gerald Henry Bunce, D. C. Howard, 1990 This book takes as its theme the fundamental but still little understood processes whereby plant and animal species disperse through space and over time The mechanisms of dispersal are complex and varied so the book adopts a thematic perspective reviewing in the first chapter general principles and then describing surveys of major botanical and zoological groups primarily but not exclusively in agricultural environments The contributors are all leading specialists in the field and present results from current research Published in association with the Institute of Terrestrial Ecology this book is a valuable review of a key field for plant scientists zoologists agricultural scientists ecologists and biogeographers Country Life, 1988
