Conzen, 2014-06-03 The only compact yet comprehensive survey of environmental and cultural forces that have shaped the visual character and geographical diversity of the settled American landscape The book examines the large scale historical influences that have molded the varied human adaptation of the continent's physical topography to its needs over more than 500 years It presents a synoptic view of myriad historical processes working together or in conflict and illustrates them through their survival in or disappearance from the everyday landscapes of today The Great Medicine Road, Part 1 Will Bagley, 2014 Between 1841 and 1866 more than 500 000 people followed trails to Oregon California and the Salt Lake Valley in one of the greatest mass migrations in American history This collection of travelers accounts of their journeys in the 1840s the first volume in a new series of trail narratives comprises excerpts from pioneer and missionary letters diaries journals and memoirs many previously unpublished accompanied by biographical information and historical background Rotting Face R. and profound ecological transformation In an era of violent and wrenching change Blackfoot people relied on their mastery of their homelands unique geography to maintain their way of life With extensive archival research from both the United States and Canada Ryan Hall shows for the first time how the Blackfoot used their borderlands position to create one of North America s most vibrant and lasting Indigenous homelands This book sheds light on a phase of Native and settler relations that is often elided in conventional interpretations of Western history and demonstrates how the Blackfoot exercised significant power resiliency and persistence in the face of colonial change Common and Contested Ground Theodore Binnema,2004-01-01 In Common and Contested Ground Theodore Binnema provides a sweeping and innovative interpretation of the history of the northwestern plains and its peoples from prehistoric times to the Lewis and Clark Expedition The real history of the northwestern plains between a d 200 and 1806 was far more complex nuanced and paradoxical than often imagined Drawn by vast herds of buffalo and abundant resources Native peoples fur traders and settlers moved across the region establishing intricate patterns of trade diplomacy and warfare In the process the northwestern plains became a common and contested ground Drawing on a wide range of sources Binnema examines the impact of technology on the peoples of the plains beginning with the bow and arrow and continuing through the arrival of the horse European weapons Old World diseases and Euroamerican traders His focus on the environment and its effect on patterns of behaviour and settlement brings a unique perspective to the history of the region
