The Four Suns Recollections And Reflections Of An Ethnologist In Mexico:

The Four Suns Jacques Soustelle,1971 The Postclassic to Spanish-Era Transition in Mesoamerica Susan Kepecs,Rani T. Alexander,2005-12-15 A historical and archaeological analysis of native and Spanish interactions in Mesoamerica and how each culture impacted the other The Four Suns Jacques Soustelle,1971 The Colonial Origins of Modern Social Thought George Steinmetz,2025-02-25 A new history of French social thought that connects postwar sociology to colonialism and empire In this provocative and original retelling of the history of French social thought George Steinmetz places the history and development of modern French sociology in the context of the French empire after World War II Connecting the rise of all the social sciences with efforts by France and other imperial powers to consolidate control over their crisis ridden colonies Steinmetz argues that colonial research represented a crucial core of the nascent academic discipline of sociology especially between the late 1930s and the 1960s Sociologists who became favored partners of colonial governments were asked to apply their expertise to such social problems as detribalization urbanization poverty and labor migration This colonial orientation permeated all the major subfields of sociological research Steinmetz contends and is at the center of the work of four influential scholars Raymond Aron Jacques Berque Georges Balandier and Pierre Bourdieu In retelling this history Steinmetz develops and deploys a new methodological approach that combines attention to broadly contextual factors dynamics within the intellectual development of the social sciences and sociology in particular and close readings of sociological texts He moves gradually toward the postwar sociologists of colonialism and their writings beginning with the most macroscopic contexts which included the postwar reoccupation of the French empire and the turn to developmentalist policies and the resulting demand for new forms of social scientific expertise After exploring the colonial engagement of researchers in sociology and neighboring fields before and after 1945 he turns to detailed examinations of the work of Aron who created a sociology of empires Berque the leading historical sociologist of North Africa Balandier the founder of French Africanist sociology and Bourdieu whose renowned theoretical concepts were forged in war torn late colonial Algeria

Feuding, Conflict and Banditry in Nineteenth-Century Corsica Stephen Wilson,2003-10-30 A study of vendetta and banditry applying insights from the field of social anthropology Anthropology, Colonial Policy and the Decline of French Empire in Africa Douglas W. Leonard,2019-12-26 Conceived as both a vehicle to national prestige and as a civilizing mission the second French colonial empire 1830 1962 challenged soldiers scholars and administrators to understand societies radically different from their own The resultant networks of anthropological inquiry however did not have this effect Rather they opened pathways to political and intellectual independence framed in the language of social science and in the process upended the colonial political system and reshaped the nature of human inquiry in France While still unequal French colonial rule in Africa revealed the durability and strength of non European modes of thought In this influential new study historian Douglas W Leonard examines the political and intellectual repercussions of French efforts to understand and to dominate colonial Africa through the use of anthropology From General Louis Faidherbe in the 1840s to politician Jacques Soustelle and sociologist Pierre Bourdieu in the 1950s these French thinkers sowed the seeds of colonial destruction

In the Museum of Man Alice L. Conklin, 2013-10-04 In the Museum of Man offers new insight into the thorny relationship between science society and empire at the high water mark of French imperialism and European racism Alice L Conklin takes us into the formative years of French anthropology and social theory between 1850 and 1900 then deep into the practice of anthropology under the name of ethnology both in Paris and in the empire before and especially after World War I and finally into the fate of the discipline and its practitioners under the German Occupation and its immediate aftermath Conklin addresses the influence exerted by academic networks museum collections and imperial connections in defining human diversity socioculturally rather than biologically especially in the wake of resurgent anti-Semitism at the time of the Dreyfus Affair and in the 1930s and 1940s Students of the progressive social scientist Marcel Mauss were exposed to the ravages of imperialism in the French colonies where they did fieldwork as a result they began to challenge both colonialism and the scientific racism that provided its intellectual justification Indeed a number of them were killed in the Resistance fighting for the humanist values they had learned from their teachers and in the field A riveting story of a close knit community of scholars who came to see all societies as equally complex In the Museum of Man serves as a reminder that if scientific expertise once authorized racism anthropologists also learned to rethink their paradigms and mobilize against racial prejudice a lesson well worth remembering today
