Slash And Burn Agriculture The Search For Alternatives:

Slash-and-burn Agriculture Cheryl Ann Palm, 2005 The Alternatives to Slash and Burn ASB consortium was formed in 1992 by a group of concerned national and international research institutions to address the global and local issues associated with this form of agriculture With contributions from scientists economists ecologists and anthropologists this book synthesizes the first decade of ASB s work It assesses the environmental economic and social impact of deforestation and the needs of small scale farmers who rely on slash and burn agriculture for their livelihood Properties and Management of Soils in the Tropics Pedro A. Sanchez, 2019-01-10 The long awaited second edition of this classic textbook expands on the first edition to include advances made in the last four decades bringing the topic completely up to date The book addresses critical issues such as whether humanity can feed itself and whether it can do so in environmentally sound and sustainable ways Written from agronomic environmental and ecological standpoints the textbook employs a multidisciplinary approach including policymaking and plant genetic improvements as well as ecosystem services climate change biodiversity sustainability and resilience New chapters in this second edition focus on organic carbon in soil soil biology soils in relation to livestock production and forestry and agroforestry The new edition will again be the go to textbook for courses on tropical soils and a reference textbook for soil and agricultural scientists and development professionals working in the tropics Methods for Measuring Greenhouse Gas Balances and Evaluating Mitigation Options in Smallholder Agriculture Todd S. Rosenstock, Mariana C. Rufino, Klaus Butterbach-Bahl, Lini Wollenberg, Meryl Richards, 2016-08-23 This book provides standards and guidelines for quantifying greenhouse gas emissions and removals in smallholder agricultural systems and comparing options for climate change mitigation based on emission reductions and livelihood trade offs Globally agriculture is directly responsible for about 11% of annual greenhouse gas GHG emissions and induces an additional 17% through land use change mostly in developing countries Farms in the developing countries of sub Saharan Africa and Asia are predominately managed by smallholders with 80% of land holdings smaller than ten hectares However little to no information exists on greenhouse gas emissions and mitigation potentials in smallholder agriculture Greenhouse gas measurements in agriculture are expensive time consuming and error prone challenges only exacerbated by the heterogeneity of smallholder systems and landscapes Concerns over methodological rigor measurement costs and the diversity of approaches coupled with the demand for robust information suggest it is germane for the scientific community to establish standards of measurements for quantifying GHG emissions from smallholder agriculture Standard guidelines for use by scientists development organizations will help generate reliable data on emissions baselines and allow rigorous comparisons of mitigation options The guidelines described in this book developed by the CGIAR Research Program on Climate Change Agriculture and Food Security CCAFS and partners are intended to inform anyone conducting field measurements of agricultural greenhouse gas sources and sinks especially to develop IPCC Tier 2 emission factors or to compare mitigation options in smallholder systems

Shifting Cultivation and Environmental Change Malcolm F.

Cairns, 2015-01-09 Shifting cultivation is one of the oldest forms of subsistence agriculture and is still practised by millions of poor people in the tropics Typically it involves clearing land often forest for the growing of crops for a few years and then moving on to new sites leaving the earlier ground fallow to regain its soil fertility This book brings together the best of science and farmer experimentation vividly illustrating the enormous diversity of shifting cultivation systems as well as the power of human ingenuity Some critics have tended to disparage shifting cultivation sometimes called swidden cultivation or slash and burn agriculture as unsustainable due to its supposed role in deforestation and land degradation However the book shows that such indigenous practices as they have evolved over time can be highly adaptive to land and ecology In contrast scientific agricultural solutions imposed from outside can be far more damaging to the environment and local communities The book focuses on successful agricultural strategies of upland farmers particularly in south and south east Asia and presents over 50 contributions by scholars from around the world and from various disciplines including agricultural economics ecology and anthropology It is a sequel to the much praised Voices from the Forest Integrating Indigenous Knowledge into Sustainable Upland Farming RFF Press 2007 but all chapters are completely new and there is a greater emphasis on the contemporary challenges of climate change and biodiversity conservation
