Civility in the City Jennifer Lee,2002 Hollywood and the news media have repeatedly depicted the inner city retail store as a scene of racial conflict and acrimony Civility in the City uncovers a quite different story Jennifer Lee examines the relationships between African American Jewish and Korean merchants and their black customers in New York and Philadelphia and shows that in fact social order routine and civility are the norm Lee illustrates how everyday civility is negotiated and maintained in countless daily interactions between merchants and customers While merchant customer relations are in no way uniform most are civil because merchants actively work to manage tensions and smooth out incidents before they escalate into racially charged anger Civility prevails because merchants make investments to maintain the day to day routine recognizing that the failure to do so can have dramatic consequences How then do minor clashes between merchants and customers occasionally erupt into the large scale conflicts we see on television Lee shows how inner city poverty and extreme inequality coupled with the visible presence of socially mobile newcomers can provide fertile ground for such conflicts The wonder is that they occur so rarely a fact that the media ignore

Language Education Policies in Multilingual Settings Laura Gurney,Lakshman Wedikkarage,2024-05-28 The volume provides grounded and contemporary insight into multilingual education from diverse perspectives stemming from the authors epistemic cultural and geographic positioning around the world in different educational milieu and will give both academic and practitioner audiences an up to date picture of multilingual education in the early 2020s Multilingual education policies are continually implemented re evaluated and debated around the world from primary to tertiary education Fundamentally however educational policies manifest in classroom practice the language envisaged in policy becomes the languaging of practice as teachers learners and stakeholders negotiate educational curricula together Internal and external forces from resourcing to the Internet to broader events such as pandemics and changes in government shape the landscapes in which policies are enacted The volume is extending the themes of the Multilingual Education Yearbook series in line with current developments in theory research and practice As such this book provides a wealth of information to practitioners teachers and teacher
