

Kids Rule Academy

Teacher/Parent Communication Info. Form

Child's Name: _____

All of our teachers have I-Pads handy every day while in classroom and outside on the playground for the following reasons:

- instant communications with parents via email, Skype, etc
- “face time” among parents-teachers-students (if necessary and during emergencies)
- for instant access to Google Search to find answers to any questions your children might have
- all the I-Pads will be connected to “Smart” TV’s in every classroom, so answers to your children’s questions can be displayed immediately
- using I-Pads teachers will be able to document your child’s educational progress and share it with you via video or pictures
- simply take videos and pictures of your child’s most memorable moments during the day
- teachers will be able to take instant notes about your child’s progress or challenges which will help them to prepare monthly report cards and evaluate their work
- teachers will be able to instantly track our calendar and your children’s daily activities and schedules which will allow them a lot more time for education and games
- ... and much more as opportunities are endless when the right technology is available.

I-Pads are the property of the Kids Rule Academy and cannot be carried outside the premises. The information collected is used only for educational purposes and is only available to parents and the staff of the Academy. Information is also available to the WI Department of Children and Families upon their request, if such request deemed necessary and reasonable.

LWA understand and not only allow but also encourage teachers to communicate to us as much as possible using Special Feature described above.

Teacherparent Relationships:

Sharing - a New Level in Teacher-parent Relationships Evelyn Beyer,1959 A Second Classroom Torin M. Finser,2014-08-26 What does a healthy successful school look like Is it all about measurable outcomes test scores and pass fail grades set by the government Can learning be quantified in short term measurements or does real learning take years to manifest in a career or biography All seem to agree that a healthy school is also a community and that community depends on the quality of relationships chiefly the relationships among students teachers and parents This book features a comprehensive examination of the parent teacher relationship in all its dimensions from parent evenings and conferences to communication conflict and the life cycle of parent involvement in their school In between the chapters on practical advice are sections that consider the issues from a deeper spiritual dimension This book is intended to stimulate conversation self reflection and relational practices that awaken community life in and around our schools Parent-teacher Relationships Irving Wright Stout,Grace Langdon,1958 Teacher-parent Relationships Jeannette Galambos Stone,1987 Sharing-a New Level in Teacher-parent Relationship Evelyn Beyer,1944 Parents On Your Side Lee Canter,2009-07-01 Turn parents into partners with practical guidelines and dialogue examples that will open the door to better communication and collaboration These strategies for creating positive parental relationships will lead to a more positive effective classroom and additional support for your efforts Parents on Your Side Lee Canter,Marlene Canter,2002-07 This book presents a unique perspective on improving education in today s classrooms While most reform programs require school wide change

The School-Home Connection Rosemary A. Olender,Jacquelyn Elias,Rosemary D. Mastroleo,2015-02-17 Research has consistently shown that student success is directly related to the strength of the relationships between parents and schools In The School Home Connection the authors draw on original research and their professional experiences to identify the common sources of both negative and positive school home relationships The book presents a comprehensive approach to building closer connections and includes Tools to help educators develop a deeper understanding of the communities they serve Strategies for improving interpersonal skills and communication skills A chapter on the importance of documenting and celebrating school events Guidelines for creating three distinct levels of parental participation in schools With suggestions for cultivating a community network of support services and a summary of lessons for forging constructive relationships The School Home Connection is an essential tool for educators looking to strengthen the learning community and increase student achievement Communicating with Parents of Exceptional Children Roger L. Kroth,1985 Relationship Matter Karen S. Noel,2008 This purpose of this study was to discover and describe influences on trusting teacher relationships with parents Use of Role and Power in Parent-Teacher Relationships ,2015 Studies have increasingly shown that more parent involvement leads to higher academic achievement for kids However studies have also shown a difference in the ability of parents to effectively further their children s interest based on social class Middle class parents are described as being able to activate their cultural and social capital in order to further their interests while working class and low income parents have been described as frustrated and marginalized lacking the ability to activate their capital in a way that benefits themselves and their children The intent of this study is to explore how parents understand their role in the parent teacher relationship to look for evidence that social class might not be as much of a factor as previous literature suggests when it comes to activation of cultural capital Building on a study that found some working class parents were able to activate cultural capital through their conversations with teachers I wanted to find out if how parents understand and perform their role would offer more insight into how cultural capital is activated Based on the premise that how parents understand their role in conversation with teachers might be able to affect their ability to activate their cultural capital I conducted a qualitative interview study to explore how parents of 5th grade elementary students view their role in the parent teacher relationship Results of the study show that parents gained confidence in their role through conversations with teachers and that they also gained an increased ability to collaborate and engage in partnership with their childrens teachers Confidence in role and collaboration with teachers were seen as indications of activation of cultural capital In this study parents were able to activate their cultural capital by having collaborative relationships with teachers 9 out of 10 times regardless of class background I draw conclusions that parents in my study developed the ability to activate cultural capital regardless of social class background Because of this parents experience of their relationships with teachers might not be as dichotomous as previous research suggests My findings suggest that frequency of communication is an important mechanism that contributes to successful parent teacher relationships Communication that was particularly helpful included informal conversations and email The use of email in parent teacher conversations in particular is an area that deserves further study

Parent/teacher Relationships ,1990 A Little Guide for Teachers: Building Relationships in Schools Omar Akbar,2023-12-15 Relationship building is often described as being key to a teacher s success in and outside the classroom but rarely is its nuanced nature analysed or practical advice ever given on how to get the best from working relationships This book covers everything you need to know about relationship building with students support staff stakeholders and parents The Little Guide for Teachers series is little in size but BIG on all the support and inspiration you need to navigate your day to day life as a teacher Authored by experts in the field Easy to dip in and out of Interactive activities encourage you to write into the book and make it your own Fun engaging illustrations throughout Read in an afternoon or take as long as you like with it Teacher Relationships Susan Mayfield Pogoloff,1997 INCLUSIVE EDUCATION, PARENTAL INVOLVEMENT, AND LEARNER'S ACADEMIC PERFORMANCE IN LOWER SECONDARY SCHOOLS IN THE DIVISION OF QUEZON CITY: BASIS FOR AN INTERVENTION PROGRAM ,2024-07-25 Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress,2010 Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress.
