EDUCATIONAL DECISIONS MADE BY AN AVERAGE TEACHER
EVERY MINUTE

The average classroom teacher will make 1,500+ educational decisions every school day. In a 6-hour school day, that's more than 4 decisions every minute. How multitasking is that? :)

A TEACHER IS EXPECTED TO BE:

INFORMATION PROVIDER

Teachers teach the students on a particular subject, through lessons that build on students' prior knowledge and moves them toward a deeper understanding of the subject at hand.

DISCIPLINE CONTROLLER

Teaching is impossible without effective group management and control, as it is the key to all children learning to their full potential.

ASSESSOR

Teachers must assess each student's growth and mastery of the lesson objectives. This assessment can happen informally through classroom observation or through formal methods like quizzes and tests.

ADMINISTRATOR

Most administrative work is surely done by teachers outside the classroom. However, taking attendance, announcements, distributing and collecting papers, bus duty, hall duty, or cafeteria duty, are always there.

ROLE MODEL

Students look to teachers as exemplars of professional adults, so it's important for teachers to always reflect a positive image and teach children things like respect, trust, and responsibility.

FOSTER PARENT

Most parents are working many hours and are unable to be with their children. As a result, certain students lean on you for support and come to you for advice or to share their good news.

FACILITATOR

Modern teachers' role is more than just knowledge providing. They engage, lead, inspire students to take lead in their own learning.

HOW TO SURVIVE IN A MULTITASKING ENVIRONMENT?

1 BE ORGANIZED.

With the shuffle of papers, the mountains of paperwork, and other distractions, the classroom and files can become disorganized quickly. Create procedures for everything in your classroom, from sharpening a pencil to having things for early finishers to do.

2 BE PREPARED.

Your activities are prepared, copies have been made, a nice warmer chosen.

3 ANTICIPATE QUESTIONS.

Put yourself in your students' shoes. By anticipating questions, you can have different ways of answering the questions "on deck" rather than being surprised.

4 DISCIPLINE SILENTLY.

Students that need to be focused can be redirected by tapping their desk, asking a question, or even saying something outrageous to pull students back in. For chatterboxes, you can write out a warning while teaching and place it on their desk.

5 DELEGATE.

Even very young kids can distribute and collect papers.

Teachers Make Decisions

John Eggleston

Teachers Make Decisions:

Exploring classroom assessment practices and teacher decision-making Dennis Alonzo, Chris Davison, Chris Ann Harrison, 2023-05-25 Teacher Decision-making in the Classroom John Eggleston, 1979 Teacher Decision-Making in the Classroom John Eggleston, 2018-10-03 Making decisions is one of the main activities of the teacher's work. Considered or apparently unconsidered, these decisions significantly affect the lives of all who work in classrooms: both children and the teachers themselves. Originally published in 1979, the aim of this collection of papers was to achieve greater understanding of classroom decision making and its consequences, to identify and map existing knowledge, and to indicate where it might be augmented. The contributors were researchers and teachers from schools, universities, and colleges at the time, and they examine the process of teacher decision making from sociological, psychological, economic, and other perspectives. The book includes a detailed analysis of life in the classroom from a phenomenological perspective, explorations based on microeconomic techniques, and structural perspectives on the role of the teacher in the school. The concluding papers examine the possibilities for social change given the constraints on the work of the teacher. Instructional Decision-making Thomas M. Sherman, 1980 Empowering Teachers Joseph Blase, Jo Blase, 2001 Updated Edition of Best Seller Heartwarming and motivating. Strategies are brought to life by teachers' descriptions of specific principal behaviors and how their principals helped them grow as professionals. Educational Leadership Should be read by all practicing principals. An extraordinary perceptive account of how a principal can influence teachers and make an impact on school culture. Richard R. Tranter, Principal, Murray High School, Murray, Utah. New insights into creating willing and motivated teachers from the teachers' point of view. Joseph and Jo Blase provide a unique opportunity for principals to learn what really works in empowering teachers to be their best. Based on interviews with over 800 teachers who describe in detail what their principals do on a daily basis to influence and empower them, the authors show the transformative effects principals can have on teachers' work both in the classroom and in the wider school setting. And now an expanded and updated edition makes this critically acclaimed book more valuable than ever. In this considerably expanded second edition, the Blases have added recent data and insights from research literature and national reports. New figures, models, tips, and reading lists. New emphasis on instructional leadership as it relates to facilitative, democratic leadership. Learn what successful principals do. The authors present descriptions of what successful principals do from teachers' actual experiences that leads to such impacts as improved self-esteem, confidence, commitment, innovation, autonomy, and reflection. Relevant concepts, models, and strategies from the literature help practitioners think through their approach to implementing shared governance. For both the practicing and prospective principal who want to construct meaningful ways of working with teachers, this book offers critical reflection about leadership using a relevant knowledge base. The teachers themselves. Joseph Blase is professor of educational leadership at the University of Georgia. He has published widely in the areas of teacher stress, principal-teacher relationships.

and shared governance leadership Blase earned the Memorial Award given by the University Council for Educational Administration and in 1999 he was recognized by the American Educational Research Association as an elite scholar Jo Blase is professor of educational leadership at the University of Georgia and a former public school teacher middle and high school principal and director of staff development She has published widely in the area of preparation for and entry to educational and instructional leadership as it relates to supervisory discourse Blase is winner of the 1997 University of Georgia College of Education Teacher Educator Award and the 1983 American Association of School Administrators Outstanding Research Award

Autonomy Paradox: Teachers' Perceptions of Self-Governance Across Europe Wieland Wermke, Maija Salokangas, 2021-03-24 What do we mean when we speak about teacher autonomy How free are teachers to go about their work To answer these complex questions the authors asked thousands of teachers in four national contexts in Finland Ireland Germany and Sweden what they think autonomy looks like The resulting book examines teacher autonomy theoretically and empirically comparing teachers perceptions of their professional autonomy Utilizing a mixed method approach the authors combine data from a large scale questionnaire study teacher interviews lesson and meeting observations and workshops that brought together teachers from the four participating countries All this engagement with teachers revealed that simply increasing their professional autonomy might not lead to desired outcomes This is because from a teachers point of view increased decision making capacity brings further complexity and risk to their work and it may instead lead to anxiety self restriction and the eventual rejection of autonomy These surprising conclusions challenge the increasingly orthodox view that increased autonomy is a desirable end in itself This is what the authors call the autonomy paradox
