Andrew Kirk, 2016-12-05 Focusing on the history of ideas this book explores important questions concerning knowledge in relation to philosophy science ethics and Christian faith Kirk contributes to the current debate about the intellectual basis and integrity of Western culture exploring controversial issues concerning the notions of modernity and post modernity Repositioning the Christian faith as a valid dialogue partner with contemporary secular movements in philosophy and ethics Kirk seeks to show that in post Christian Europe the Christian faith still possesses intellectual resources worthy to be reckoned with This book's principal argument is that contemporary Western society faces a cultural crisis It explores what appears to be an historical enigma namely the question of why Western intellectual endeavours in philosophy and science seem to have abandoned the search for a source of knowledge able to draw together disparate pieces of information provided by different disciplines Kirk draws conclusions particularly in the area of ethical decision making from this apparent failure and invites readers to consider Christian theism afresh as a means for the renewal of culture and society Discourse on Civility and Barbarity Timothy Fitzgerald, 2010-12-31 This book analyses the development of different meanings of the term religion in different contexts and in relation to other categories with shifting and unstable nuances such as the state politics economics and the secular It traces a major transformation of the category as a function of Euro American colonialism and capitalism from its traditional meaning of Christian Truth to the modern generic and pluralised category of religions and world religions Throughout the period under consideration discourses on religion have overlapped significantly with discourses on our civility as opposed to their barbarity underpinning the superior rationality of the literate male elite of western societies Religion in Higher Education Sophie Gilliat-Ray, 2019-07-16 This title was first published in 2000 The place of religion in universities and institutes of higher education has become increasingly topical and contested in recent years largely due to the growth of religious diversity on campus Issues such as shared worship spaces equal opportunities and the management of inter religious conflict concern university administrators and students alike Based on primary empirical research this book indicates the need for clear guidelines on these issues and provides the data to inform policy making Offering the first study of the practical and sociological implications of the multi faith campus this book provides a context for examining some of the dynamics of religious diversity in Britain more generally as well as providing a useful analysis for the wider international context Key themes covered include religion in institutions inter faith relations the changing roles of religious professionals secularisation and resacralisation and religion youth and identity

Muslims as Actors Jacques Waardenburg, 2012-02-13 This book deals with Islamic studies and with the question how the scholarly study of religion can contribute to the study of Islam The author advocates studying Islamic phenomena as signs and symbols interpreted and applied in diverse ways in existing traditions He stresses the role of Muslims as actors in the ongoing debate about the articulation of Islamic ways of life and construction of Islam as a religion A careful study of this debate should steer clear of political religious and ideological interests Research in this area by Muslims and non Muslim scholars alike should address the question of what Muslims have made of their Islam in specific circumstances Current political contexts have created an unhealthy climate for pursuing an open approach to Islam based on reading observing listening and reflecting Yet precisely nowadays we need to look anew at ways of Muslim thinking and acting that refer to Islam and to avoid certain schemes of interpreting Muslim realities that are no longer adequate for present day Muslim life situations Muslim recourses to Islam can be studied as human constructions of value and meaning and relations between Muslims and others can be seen in terms of human interaction without blame always falling on Islam as such Zoroastrian and Parsi Studies John Hinnells, 2017-11-01 This title was first published in 2000 This volume collects articles from 30 years of John R Hinnell's writings The selection is intended to balance the different areas in which he has worked the ancient tradition and its influence on Biblical imagery Parsi history the living religion and diaspora communities Danish Yearbook of Philosophy vol. 47 Finn Collin, 2015-06-12 Danish Yearbook of Philosophy publishes contributions in English German and French Danish Yearbook of Philosophy mainly publishes articles relating to Danish philosophy or by authors with ties to Danish philosophy
