Mind, Body, Soul and Spirit in Transactional Analysis Gordon Law, 2006. Relationships may be understood as the contact that emerges from observable social roles underpinned by inter-personal attitudes. Because the models provide a meta-level framework for understanding and influencing any sequence of interaction irrespective of setting or TA specialism, they give ample scope for practitioners to exercise widely differing preferences, techniques and strategies for interacting with clients in ways that encompass a transpersonal or a spiritual view of relationships.
