Skys The Limit A Defense Of The Earth:

The Sky Is Not the Limit Neil deGrasse Tyson, 2010-03-19 From the author of Astrophysics for People in a Hurry and the host of Cosmos A Spacetime Odyssey a memoir about growing up and a young man's budding scientific curiosity This is the absorbing story of Neil deGrasse Tyson's lifelong fascination with the night sky a restless wonder that began some thirty years ago on the roof of his Bronx apartment building and eventually led him to become the director of the Hayden Planetarium A unique chronicle of a young man who at one time was both nerd and jock Tyson's memoir could well inspire other similarly curious youngsters to pursue their dreams Like many athletic kids he played baseball won medals in track and swimming and was captain of his high school wrestling team But at the same time he was setting up a telescope on winter nights taking an advanced astronomy course at the Hayden Planetarium and spending a summer vacation at an astronomy camp in the Mojave Desert Eventually his scientific curiosity prevailed and he went on to graduate in physics from Harvard and to earn a Ph D in astrophysics from Columbia There followed postdoctoral research at Princeton In 1996 he became the director of the Hayden Planetarium where some twenty five years earlier he had been awed by the spectacular vista in the sky theater Tyson pays tribute to the key teachers and mentors who recognized his precocious interests and abilities and helped him succeed He intersperses personal reminiscences with thoughts on scientific literacy careful science vs media hype the possibility that a meteor could someday hit the Earth dealing with society's racial stereotypes what science can and cannot say about the existence of God and many other interesting insights about science society and the nature of the universe Now available in paperback with a new preface and other additions this engaging memoir will enlighten and inspire an appreciation of astronomy and the wonders of our universe

How High the Sky? Thomas Gangale, 2018-11-26 In How High the Sky jurist Thomas Gangale explores the oldest and most important controversy in space law how far up does national airspace go and where does the international environment of outer space begin Even though nations did not object to the first satellites flying over their sovereign territory after more than six decades there is still no international agreement on how low the right of space object overflight extends nor are there agreed legal definitions of space object and space activity Dr Gangale brings his background as an aerospace engineer to bear in exploding long held beliefs of the legal community and he offers a draft international convention to settle the oldest and most intractable problems in space law Confronting China James H. Anderson, Daniel R. Green, 2024-10-31 Informed by senior policymakers with extensive expertise in defense this book provides a comprehensive regional and functional perspective on US policy toward the People's Republic of China Confronting China addresses the central security questions of our generation How best can the United States deter Chinese aggression and win the peace China's pursuit of global hegemony reflects a patient yet determined effort to reshape the international order in its favor Deterring Chinese aggression and winning the peace necessitates an integrated approach that draws upon all instruments of US national power Drawing on the insightful analysis of more than a dozen senior national security practitioners chapters discuss the China challenge from multiple perspectives Contributors examine the different dimensions of China's growing power and assess how well they advance the Chinese Communist Party's political ambitions and what must be done to counter them Drawing upon each writer's particular areas of expertise chapter authors provide concrete strategy based and resource informed policy recommendations In the concluding chapter the editors review common threads and key insights from the preceding chapters placing them in a larger strategic context Hearings United States. American Women During World War II Doris Weatherford, 2009-10-16 American Women during World War II documents the lives and stories of women who contributed directly to the war effort via official and semi official military organizations as well as the millions of women who worked in civilian defense industries ranging from aircraft maintenance to munitions manufacturing and much more It also illuminates how the war changed the lives of women in more traditional home front roles All women had to cope with rationing of basic household goods and most women volunteered in war related programs Other entries discuss institutional change as the war affected every aspect of life including as schools hospitals and even religion American Women during World War II provides a handy one volume collection of information and images suitable for any public or professional library Unmanned Systems Dr. Terence M. Dorn, 2021-12-02 The threat of an attack involving an unmanned system armed with a weapon of mass destruction is a present one With two million drones projected to be flying US skies in 2020 unmanned aircraft systems in the air domain pose a significant challenge to the nation's security Other technological advancements such as artificial intelligence combined with unmanned systems have transformed the threat's very nature yet the skies are not the only domain of concern The technology is also developing rapidly in unmanned undersea and surface systems expanding potential weapons of mass destruction delivery options This publication is an examination of unmanned aerial systems UAS unmanned surface systems USS and unmanned undersea systems UUS The technological innovation that led to the global commercialization of UAS is underway with USS and UUS

Until recently no known scholarly studies existed that examined the vulnerabilities of one sector of US critical infrastructure to attack by UAS until A Phenomenological Examination of US Nuclear Power Plants to Attack by Unmanned Aerial Systems was published late in 2020 According to the Nuclear Regulatory Commission NRC there had been fifty seven UAS incursions over twenty four US nuclear power plants in the past five years representing one of sixteen sectors of US critical infrastructure Gardiner 2016 Rogoway and Trevithick 2020 Hambling 2020 Federal departments and organizations have largely ignored the threat potential that UAS pose despite the strategic guidance laid out in the 2017 National Security Strategy of the US The nation s national security demands a close examination of the vulnerabilities and is immediately working to close those security gaps This publication will focus on the emergency of new UAS capabilities and highlight the latest technologies capabilities and the significant national security threat implications that UAS USS and UUS platforms represent to US critical infrastructure
