Revolution Levi McLaughlin, 2018-12-31 Soka Gakkai is Japan's largest and most influential new religious organization It claims more than 8 million Japanese households and close to 2 million members in 192 countries and territories The religion is best known for its affiliated political party Komeito the Clean Government Party which comprises part of the ruling coalition in Japan's National Diet and it exerts considerable influence in education media finance and other key areas Levi McLaughlin's comprehensive account of Soka Gakkai draws on nearly two decades of archival research and non member fieldwork to account for its institutional development beyond Buddhism and suggest how we should understand the activities and dispositions of its adherents McLaughlin explores the group's Nichiren Buddhist origins and turns to insights from religion political science anthropology and cultural studies to characterize Soka Gakkai as mimetic of the nation state Ethnographic vignettes combine with historical evidence to demonstrate ways Soka Gakkai's twin Buddhist and modern humanist legacies inform the organization's mimesis of the modern Japan in which the group took shape To make this argument McLaughlin analyzes Gakkai sources heretofore untreated in English language scholarship provides a close reading of the serial novel The Human Revolution which serves the Gakkai as both history and de facto scripture identifies ways episodes from members' lives form new chapters in its growing canon and contributes to discussions of religion and gender as he chronicles the lives of members who simultaneously reaffirm generational transmission of Gakkai devotion as they pose challenges for the organization's future Readers looking for analyses of the nation state and strategies for understanding New Religions and modern Buddhism will find Soka Gakkai's Human Revolution to be an especially thought provoking study that offers widely applicable theoretical models Buddhist Politics: Japan's Clean Government Party

A. Palmer, 2012-12-06 On November 17 1964 a new and rather unique political organization was inaugurated in Japan This organization was called Komeito or the Clean Government Party The mother organization was the lay Buddhist group Soka Gakkai 2 or Value Creation Society It had previously been engaged in some political activities but the establishment of the party was an indication of serious intent to become even more involved in Japanese political affairs The rather militant posture of Soka Gakkai and its phenomenal success in converting literally millions of Japanese to the Nichiren Buddhist religion was somewhat disconcerting for observers both Japanese and foreign. Because of its political activism many persons viewed the organization as similar to the pre World War II ultra nationalist movement while others applauded Soka Gakkai for giving new life and hope to a large segment of Japanese society that was only receiving a marginal share of Japan's increasing prosperity. Any mass movement may appear rather ominous to some people and a rapidly expanding and aggressive movement is bound to be perceived as a threat to society. Soka Gakkai is no exception and therefore has been the subject of much debate and controversy in both Japan and abroad. As is often the case with controversial matters a new perspective will help to clarify some of the more contentious issues of this movement.
