Danny Harvey, 2012-08-21 Winner of Choice Magazine Outstanding Academic Titles for 2007 Buildings account for over one third of global energy use and associated greenhouse gas emissions worldwide Reducing energy use by buildings is therefore an essential part of any strategy to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and thereby lessen the likelihood of potentially catastrophic climate change Bringing together a wealth of hard to obtain information on energy use and energy efficiency in buildings at a level which can be easily digested and applied Danny Harvey offers a comprehensive objective and critical sourcebook on low energy buildings Topics covered include thermal envelopes heating cooling heat pumps HVAC systems hot water lighting solar energy appliances and office equipment embodied energy buildings as systems and community integrated energy systems cogeneration district heating and district cooling The book includes exemplary buildings and techniques from North America Europe and Asia and combines a broad holistic perspective with technical detail in an accessible and insightful manner Intelligent Skins Michael Wigginton, Jude Harris, 2013-06-17 Looking to the future Intelligent Skins sets out the principles for the design of the intelligent building envelope It highlights an exciting new approach to the area where the fabric of the building responds to external changes and internal demands The prime objective is to control internal environments through a responsive building fabric rather than by energy consuming building services systems The authors examine the potential for integral intelligence within the fabric of the building and explore the evolution of information technology and smart materials which have allowed a whole new category of design principles to be created Renewable Energy-2000 Gerard T. Wrixon, Anne-Marie E. Rooney, Wolfgang Palz, 2012-12-06 The limited availability of fossil energy carriers and the environmental impacts of energy consumption demand mid and long term strategies both for the rational use of energy and for increased renewable energy utilization Concepts of renewable energy conversion have been proposed and implemented during recent decades all over the world and their remarkable potential has been demonstrated However large scale implementation in the context of the requirements above has not yet taken place The EUREC European Renewable Energy Centres Agency an association of 25 European research centres from 11 EC countries provides a framework of leading experts in the field of renewable energies focusing on assessment studies joint projects in research and development and on proposing future strategies in a European context Under the leadership of Professor Wrixon with the assistance and contributions of experts from the EUREC Agency the document Renewable Energy 2000 has been elaborated This document critically evaluates the potential of renewable energies focusing on the most relevant sources and methodologies namely wind energy solar heating cooling and daylighting photovoltaics and biomass It also proposes strategies for implementing components and systems to achieve economic operation in different regions of the European Community It thereby makes use of the expert knowledge and experience
