Soldier And A Woman Women In The Military:

A Soldier and a Woman Gerard J. De Groot, C. Peniston-Bird, 2014-07-30 The question of women's role in the military is extremely topical. A Woman and a Soldier covers the experiences of women in the military from the late mediaeval period to the present day. Written in two volumes, this comprehensive guide covers a wide range of wars: The Thirty Years War, the French and Indian Wars in Northern America, the Anglo Boer War, the First and Second World Wars, the Long March in China, and the Vietnam War. There are also thematic chapters including studies of terrorism and contemporary military service. Taking a multidisciplinary approach, historical, anthropological, and cultural, the book shows the variety of arguments used to support or deny women's military service and the combat taboo. In the process, the book challenges preconceived notions about women's integration in the military and builds a picture of the ideological and practical issues surrounding women soldiers.

Women Soldiers Elisabetta Addis, Valeria E. Russo, Lorenza Sebesta, 1994 This book is a comprehensive interdisciplinary study of female military service. The book advocates an active policy of integration of women in a military willing to accommodate their different lives and values.

Women in the Military Rita James Simon, The role and status and treatment of women is one of the major issues confronting the military today. This volume provides a range of perspectives on the magnitude of concerns, the sources of problems, how issues might best be addressed, and the future for women in the armed services. It is based on a special issue of the journal Gender Issues supplemented with additional contributions from leading scholars. Historical and theoretical perspectives are provided by Lorry M. Fenner and Jean Bethke Elshtain. Fenner focuses on the role of women in the military since 1940 and argues for broader inclusion of women as well as other groups that have previously been restricted from full participation. Elshtain analyzes the extraordinary ability of war to draw both women and men into civic life and observes how it calls forth and establishes a sense of particular identity for both men and women. Critical views are provided by other scholars. Laura L. Miller examines the feminist movement's insistence on full participation in combat units. Former Army chaplain Marie deYoung provides qualitative and quantitative data on military readiness and unit cohesion in mixed gender units. Leading military scholars Mady W. Segal, David R. Segal, Jerald G. Bachman, Peter Freedman, Doan, and Patrick M. O'Malley review national surveys comparing male and female high school seniors' responses to surveys conducted on questions about their propensity to enlist. Male-female differences are also addressed by Judith Hicks Steinhilber, who looks at the opinions each group has about the capabilities and performance of women. She finds differences by rank on questions as to how hard female soldiers work as compared to male soldiers and whether women are ready for combat duty. Historically, the military has provided minorities equal opportunity. Brenda L. Moore and Schulyler C. Webb examine whether or not this is still perceived to be the case in today's Navy. They focus on different perceptions by women and men and by African American women in particular. Finally, William O'Neill examines whether the post-cold war downsized military will find women soldiers more or less important. Drawing upon social science research, historical data, and contemporary opinion surveys Women in the Military is a cutting edge assessment of a major gender issue in the United States It will be valuable to researchers in women s studies as well as those teaching courses in sociology history and military studies Rita James Simon is University Professor in the School of Public Affairs and the Washington College of Law at American University She is the editor of Gender Issues and author of The American Jury the Insanity Defense A Critical Assessment of Law and Policy in the Post Hinkley Era with David Aaronson Adoption Race and Identity with Howard Alstein In the Golden Land A Century of Russian and Soviet Jewish Immigration Social Science Data and Supreme Court Decisions with Rosemary Erickson and Abortion Statutes Policies and Public Attitudes the World Over
