Streetsmart Schoolsmart Gilberto Q. Conchas, James Diego Vigil, 2015-04-17 If the cogent messages of this searing and compelling book are heeded and implemented by educational researchers policymakers and practitioners our nation will be greatly enriched by the abundant gifts of young men of color James A. Banks Kerry and Linda Killinger Professor in Diversity Studies and Director of the Center for Multicultural Education University of Washington Seattle This insightful theoretically rich and timely book helps readers understand why many young men turn to gangs and how schools and community based organizations can counter the lure of the streets to expand opportunities for young men of color Pedro A. Noguera Peter L. Agnew Professor of Education New York University and author of City Schools and the American Dream This book provides an important testament to the power we have to change lives and to the remarkable resiliency that brings hope in the face of hardship Rachel F. Moran Michael J. Connell Distinguished Professor of Law and Dean UCLA School of Law In Streetsmart Schoolsmart two respected scholars present original research on youth gangs and school success to explain why some boys become disengaged and join gangs while others do not Chapters vividly describe how urban boys from different ethnic backgrounds Asian African American and Latino approach schooling and identify the sociocultural factors that affect their choices The authors concentrate on three areas 1 the role of marginalized communities in the formation of urban gang youth 2 the role of community based organizations in reengaging urban youth and 3 the role of schools in creating opportunities for urban boys to succeed despite disparities in their economic and social circumstances Streetsmart Schoolsmart points the way toward important changes that can break the cycle of poverty in American neighborhoods and society It is essential reading for educators and all professionals working with urban youth and anyone concerned with the success of young boys Gilberto Q Conchas is executive director of the Career Academy Support Network CASN at the University of California Berkeley and associate professor of education at the University of California Irvine James Diego Vigil is professor of social ecology at the University of California Irvine School Success for At-Risk Students Therese M. Brooks,2006-01-26 This handbook gathers into one volume the current scientific theory clinical guidelines and real world interventions that can help children overcome the everyday obstacles they face It includes a wide range of perspectives addressing the role of resilience in helping children overcome these obstacles The book provides guidance on how to measure and evaluate resilience in clinical practice and it emphasizes the importance of resilience positive psychology rather than pathologies In addition the book features contributions from leading experts from a variety of fields such as psychology education and social work Self-Regulation and Early School Success Megan M. McClelland,Shauna L. Tominey,2016-04-08 Self regulation has been identified as an important predictor of school readiness and academic achievement in young children Children who struggle with self regulation are at risk of experiencing peer rejection and academic difficulties Teachers report that there is high variability in children s self regulatory abilities at school entry and that children with an accumulation of risk factors are especially likely to enter school without adequate self regulation skills Moreover early academic skills are often cumulative so children who fail to acquire early skills are at risk of falling behind their peers academically and facing achievement gaps that widen over time Although the relation between self regulation and school related outcomes has been clearly documented our understanding of the pathways through which self regulation influences early achievement and school success remains unclear This special issue considers previously neglected areas in the current understanding of self regulation The seven articles focus on issues including a the complex relations between self regulation and school readiness b predictors of self regulation and academic achievement and c advances in measurement of self regulation and related skills Research that continues to investigate the complex relations and mechanisms that influence early self regulation and related outcomes will inform policy and practice in ways that help all children develop the self regulation skills they need The volume will be of interest to researchers in the field of child development or education and educators and policy makers who are interested in promoting school readiness and academic success This book was originally published as a special issue of Early Education and Development The Latest and Best of TESS ,1991

Contemporary Perspectives on Social Learning in Early Childhood Education Olivia Saracho, Bernard Spodek, 2007-06-01 Social epistemology is a broad set of approaches to the study of knowledge and to gain information about the social dimensions This intellectual movement of wide cross disciplinary sources reconstructs the problems of epistemology when knowledge is considered to be intrinsically social In the first chapter Social Epistemology and Social Learning Olivia Saracho and Bernard Spodek discuss the social and historical contexts in which different forms of knowledge are formulated based on the perspective of social epistemology They also discuss the emergence of social epistemology which guides researchers to investigate social phenomena in laboratory and field settings Social factors external to the appropriate business of science have a major impact in the social studies researchers historical case studies Thus social studies researchers may be considered social epistemologists because a they focus on knowledge of social influences and b they infer epistemologically significant conclusions from their sociological or anthropological research In addition analyses indicate that studies of scientific paradigms are basically a struggle for political power rather than reflecting reliable epistemic merit Social studies researchers focus on knowledge of social influences on knowledge which is analogous to the knowledge of the social epistemologists They also use their sociological or anthropological research to infer epistemologically significant conclusions Bulletin of the National Association of Secondary-School Principals National Association of Secondary School Principals (U.S.), 1927
