understanding and bring about change In addition to up to date examples and research the eighth edition presents three chapters on inequality in educational access and experiences where class race and ethnicity and gender are presented as separate though intersecting vectors of educational inequality Each chapter combines qualitative and quantitative approaches and relevant theory classics and emerging research and micro and macro level perspectives What Our Stories Teach Us Linda K. Shadiow,2013-03-07 Praise for What Our Stories Teach Us In her new book What Our Stories Teach Us Linda Shadiow invites college faculty to use their personal and professional stories to reflect more critically and meaningfully on their teaching practice Guiding her readers with a gentle but sure hand Shadiow painstakingly shows that by systematically examining our educational and pedagogical biographies from a range of perspectives we gain deeper insight into the pivotal moments that enliven our teaching and sustain our commitment to ongoing professional growth I expect to be learning from this humane book for many years to come STEPHEN PRESKILL Distinguished Professor of Civic Engagement and Leadership Wagner College Essential reading for every educator who strives to be a better teacher Shadiow s book offers us a fascinating process to mine our personal teaching and learning stories for the valuable lessons they contain JIM SIBLEY Centre for Instructional Support University of British Columbia In this well conceived and well written book Linda Shadiow gently guides faculty along a path toward unearthing the rich stories of their lives that offer deep and enduring insight into their practice DANNELLE D STEVENS professor and author Journal Keeping How to Use Reflective Writing for Learning Teaching Professional Insight and Positive Change The Course Syllabus Judith Grunert O'Brien,Barbara J. Millis,Margaret W. Cohen,2009-10-29 When it was first published in 1997 The Course Syllabus became the gold standard reference for both new and experienced college faculty Like the first edition this book is based on a learner centered approach Because faculty members are now deeply committed to engaging students in learning the syllabus has evolved into a useful if lengthy document Today s syllabus provides details about course objectives requirements and expectations and also includes information about teaching philosophies specific activities and the rationale for their use and tools essential to student success Sociology of Families David M Newman,Elizabeth Grauerholz,2002-02-19 Sociology of Families Second Edition begins at the level of the individual by examining familiar contemporary issues topics students are likely to feel strongly about David Newman and Liz Grauerholz next show students the deeper and more detailed sociological underpinnings of the issues at hand using the theories and data of social sciences to understand the meaning and broader relevance of these controversies and experiences Theorizing Foreign Policy in a Globalized World Knud Erik Jørgensen,2015-04-29 In this collection of refreshing and provocative essays the contributors to Theorizing Foreign Policy in a Globalized World reflect on the game changing political impact of globalization outlining the situation as it currently stands and suggesting strategies for analyzing foreign policy and global governance Teaching Environmental Literacy Heather L. Reynolds,2010 Integrating environmental education throughout the curriculum Exploring Signature

Pedagogies Regan A. R. Gurung, Nancy L. Chick, Aeron Haynie, 2023-07-03 From the Foreword These authors have clearly shown the value in looking for the signature pedagogies of their disciplines Nothing uncovers hidden assumptions about desired knowledge skills and dispositions better than a careful examination of our most cherished practices The authors inspire specialists in other disciplines to do the same Furthermore they invite other colleagues to explore whether relatively new interdisciplinary fields such as Women s Studies and Global Studies have or should have a signature pedagogy consistent with their understanding of what it means to apprentice in these areas Anthony A Ciccone Senior Scholar and Director Carnegie Academy for the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning How do individual disciplines foster deep learning and get students to think like disciplinary experts With contributions from the sciences humanities and the arts this book critically explores how to best foster student learning within and across the disciplines This book represents a major advance in the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning SoTL by moving beyond individual case studies best practices and the work of individual scholars to focus on the unique content and characteristic pedagogies of major disciplines Each chapter begins by summarizing the SoTL literature on the pedagogies of a specific discipline and by examining and analyzing its traditional practices paying particular attention to how faculty evaluate success Each concludes by articulating for its discipline the elements of a signature pedagogy that will improve teaching and learning and by offering an agenda for future research Each chapter explores what the pedagogical literature of the discipline suggests are the optimal ways to teach material in that field and to verify the resulting learning Each author is concerned about how to engage students in the ways of knowing the habits of mind and the values used by experts in his or her field Readers will not only benefit from the chapters most relevant to their disciplines As faculty members consider how their courses fit into the broader curriculum and relate to the other disciplines and design learning activities and goals not only within the discipline but also within the broader objectives of liberal education they will appreciate the cross disciplinary understandings this book affords Classrooms as

Laboratories United States. Congress. House. Committee on Science. Subcommittee on Research, 2001 First Contact Nancy A. Greenwood, Jay R. Howard, 2011-08-16 The Introduction to Sociology course is usually the first contact that students have with the discipline of sociology This course can determine whether students take other sociology courses or learn to use sociology in their lives as adults and citizens First Contact identifies important issues facing instructors in introducing students to the sociological imagination Drawing on the literature of teaching and learning in sociology and higher education more broadly First Contact provides an overview of the scholarship of teaching and learning best practices and other essential information to create a successful first course in sociology It walks the instructor through the course design process from learning about whom your students are determining appropriate course goals and learning objectives and using these ideas to design execute and assess your course It examines the core content of a first course It discusses how to design a syllabus select textbooks and readings as well as how to design and deliver effective lectures facilitate good discussions and other course delivery options An invaluable resource for anyone teaching the introductory sociology course including grad students new professors and seasoned instructors who seek renewal in their approach to teaching this critical course in the sociology curriculum The Great White North? ,2007-01-01 This landmark book represents the first text to pay critical and sustained attention to Whiteness in Canada from an impressive line up of leading scholars and activists The burgeoning scholarship on Whiteness will benefit richly from this book s timely inclusion of the insights of Canadian scholars educators activists and others working for social justice within and through the educational system with implications far beyond national borders Over 20 leading scholars and activists have contributed a diversity of chapters offering a concerted scholarly analysis of how the complex problematic of Whiteness affects the structure culture content and achievement within education in Canada Contributors include James Frideres Carl James Cynthia Levine Rasky and Patrick Solomon The book critically examines diverse perspectives contexts and the construction and application of societal and institutional practices both formal and informal that underpin inequitable power relations and disenfranchisement Its relevance extends beyond the Canadian context as those in other global settings will find abundant and poignant lessons for their own transformative work in education with a particular focus on social justice Awards for The Great White North The publication Award Canadian Association for Foundations in Education 2009 Canadian Race Relations Foundation Award of Distinction 2008 The Insider's Guide to Working with Universities James W. Dean Jr.,Deborah Y. Clarke,2019-08-13 Colleges and universities stand to benefit greatly when businesspeople engage with them whether through governing boards alumni associations consulting arrangements philanthropy or other channels But many businesspeople are frustrated by the way institutions of higher education work or rather how they don t work Why do decisions in universities take so long and involve so many people Why aren t profit and growth top priorities for colleges Why can t the faculty be managed like any other employees Shouldn t alumni have a greater say as they continue to invest in their alma mater As leaders in higher education James W Dean Jr and Deborah Y Clarke have years of experience addressing these questions for a wide range of professionals outside the academy This book draws on their expertise to offer real world guidance for businesspeople who work with and seek to improve colleges and universities Dean and Clarke differentiate and clarify the motivations and structures that make universities unique among American enterprises And while they acknowledge the challenges that businesspeople often face when working with academic institutions they explain that understanding the distinct mission of higher education is essential to being able to effect change within these organizations Presenting insights from interviews with a wide range of stakeholders Dean and Clarke give succinct and practical advice for working with universities Teaching Undergraduate Science Linda C. Hodges,2025-09-25 Teaching Undergraduate Science A Guide to Overcoming Obstacles to Student Learning offers college and university instructors evidence based strategies to help students learn those specific skills and habits of mind necessary for succeeding in STEM fields Updated and expanded from the first edition this text elaborates on critical factors in cultivating student success including how to engender a sense of belonging and agency in STEM engage students in their learning and foster deliberate practice Hodges provides frank guidance on the relative effort and outcomes for each strategy allowing instructors to choose techniques best suited to their aims and contexts While focusing primarily on face to face classes this resource also addresses how to work between online resources and physical spaces Hodges years of experience working as and with STEM faculty provides a personal connection to the research shared producing an accessible practical and enjoyable read

Best Practices for Teaching Beginnings and Endings in the Psychology Major Dana S. Dunn, Bernard B. Beins, Maureen A. McCarthy, G. William Hill, IV, 2010-01-12 Introductory and capstone experiences in the undergraduate psychology program are crucial ways to engage students in their major and psychology department impart realistic expectations and prepare them for life beyond college Providing the right orientation and capstone courses in psychology education is increasingly a concern of instructors department chairs program directors and deans and both types of courses have become important sources for gathering pre and post coursework assessment data for degree learning outcomes The strategies presented here have been designed to help educators examine issues around teaching the introductory or careers course and developing a psychology specific orientation program The authors also provide concrete suggestions for building capstone experiences designed to fit the needs of a department its pedagogical philosophy or the educational agenda of the college or university Undergraduate psychology curriculum designers and instructors can benefit from learning innovative and effective strategies for introducing the major to first year students and at graduation for bringing closure reinforcing the overall departmental learning outcomes and helping students apply their disciplinary knowledge in capstone experiences and post graduate life In this collection of articles psychology instructors involved in the improvement of teaching and learning review the research and share their own successes and challenges in the classroom Discussions include effective practices for helping students become acclimated to and engaged in the psychology major application of developmental knowledge and learning communities to course design and use of quality benchmarks to improve introductory and capstone courses Other chapters describe innovations in the design of stand alone courses and offer concrete advice on counseling psychology graduates about how to use what they have learned beyond their higher education experiences
