Social Partners and Gender Equality Anna Elomäki, Johanna Kantola, Paula Koskinen Sandberg, 2021-12-01 This book breaks new ground in gender and politics research by studying the multiple ways in which gender and intersectional equalities shape and are shaped by social partners representing employers and employees in Europe as well as the relationships between those social partners Little critical attention has been paid to these organizations yet as this volume illustrates social partners are important actors in relation to gender and other inequalities at the level of both individual European countries and the European Union The chapters in this volume explore the impact of social partners on inequalities in a variety of 21st century political contexts taking into account phenomena such as neoliberalisation austerity and the COVID 19 crisis This volume adds a crucial dimension to studies on gender inequalities in the labour market contributing to research on issues such as domestic work the gender pay gap and the persistent undervaluation of women's labour and feminized reproductive labour in particular care work It also represents a significant contribution to the literature on gender equality policy The book's focus on social partners provides important insights that help to explain the persistence of gender inequalities and the difficulties of adopting and implementing policies to combat them This volume should appeal to students and researchers of gender studies politics European politics employment relations and international relations as well as to policymakers engaged in addressing gender inequalities in the labour market

PISA Vocational Education and Training (VET) Assessment and Analytical Framework OECD,2024-03-19 This report presents the conceptual foundations of the OECD Programme for International Student Assessment PISA Vocational Education and Training VET currently in the Development Phase of implementation which aims to provide a comprehensive and rigorous international survey of student knowledge and skills that are essential for success in selected occupational areas

Training for Employment International Labour Office,2000 This report examines the human resources development and training dimensions of the gradual but inexorable shift towards knowledge skill and service based economies and societies and the stupendous growth of the information and communications technology sectors It offers the following four conclusions 1 all countries will feel the impact of these changes 2 older more mature economies with skilled workers may resist change and suffer from a mismatch between skills and needs and so need to stress education and training and make them more widely available in order to maintain employability and productivity over a lifetime 3 in developing countries more workers need to be educated so that they are not forced into unemployment and young workers are most likely to benefit from training programs undertaken in a well established institutional context and 4 in all countries major structural reforms are needed to adapt training continuously to the changing nature and dynamics of labor markets and to improve access to training for everybody throughout life The report raises points for discussion of the role of human resources development in all types of economies Publisher's description
