Social Planning At The Community Level:

Social Planning at the Community Level Armand Lauffer, 1978      Health Promotion at the Community Level Neil F. Bracht, 1999 Like the First Edition this book serves as a guide to the science and art of community health promotion The last decade of research and development has considerably advanced the science of achieving and maintaining health In this new edition international contributors share their experiences and expertise about diverse health promotion and point out areas needing adjustment in community implementation both on an international and domestic level      Community Development, Social Action and Social Planning Alan C. Twelvetrees, 2017-05-12 Now going into its fifth edition Alan Twelvetrees invaluable guide to the theory and practice of community work has been educating students and practitioners alike for over three decades Covering topics such as work with community groups the various dimensions of social action and project planning and how to engage effectively with public bodies this is a truly comprehensive must read for community workers as well as anyone keen to undertake effective work in the community Drawing on the author's wealth of experience and benefiting from the grounded style of writing that has made the previous editions so popular the book considers everyday community work situations to provide readers with a genuine feel for the realities of practice This classic text is essential for anyone studying working or just interested in community work community regeneration and service planning New to this Edition A classic highly regarded textbook substantially updated to reflect new service needs and a tougher economic climate Includes new pedagogic features including chapter overviews practice focus boxes and putting it in to practice features

Social Capital at the Community Level John M. Halstead, Steven C. Deller, 2015-04-24 In Social Capital at the Community Level John Halstead and Steven Deller examine social capital formation beyond the individual level through a variety of disciplines planning economics regional development sociology as well as non traditional approaches like engineering and built environmental features The notion of social capital in community and economic development has become a focus of intense interest for policy makers practitioners and academics The notion is that communities with higher levels of social capital networks trust and norms will prosper both economically and socially In a practical sense how do communities use the notion of social capital to build policies and strategies to move their community forward Are all forms of social capital the same and do all have a positive influence on the community To help gain insights into these fundamental questions Social Capital at the Community Level takes a holistic interdisciplinary or systems approach to thinking about the community While those who study social capital will acknowledge the need for an interdisciplinary approach most stay within their disciplinary silos One could say there is strong bonding social capital within disciplines but little bridging social capital across disciplines The contributors to Social Capital at the Community Level have made an attempt to build that bridging social capital While disciplinary biases and research approaches are evident there is significant overlap about how people with different disciplinary perspectives think about social capital and how it can be applied at the community level This can be from neighborhoods addressing a localized issue to a global response to a natural disaster This book is an invaluable resource for scholars researchers and policy makers of community and economic development as well as rural sociologists and planners looking to understand the opaque process of social capital formation in communities Effects of Neighborhood Consensus on Services Delivery, 1981 Neighborhood Planning and Community-Based Development William Peterman, 2000 This book explores the promise and limits of bottom up grass roots strategies of community organizing development and planning as blueprints for successful revitalization and maintenance of urban neighborhoods Peterman proposes conditions that need to be met for bottom up strategies to succeed Successful neighborhood development depends not only on local actions but also on the ability of local groups to marshal resources and political will at levels above that of the neighborhood itself While he supports community based initiatives he argues that there are limits to what can be accomplished exclusively at the grassroots level where most efforts fail Back cover Concepts and Methods of Social Work Walter A. Friedlander, 1976 The Handbook of Community Practice Marie Weil, Michael S. Reisch, Mary L. Ohmer, 2013 Written by some of the most influential scholars in the field this Handbook covers community development organizing planning and social change as well as key issues fields of practice and global approaches Theory and Practice of Social Planning Alfred J. Kahn, 1969 Discusses the intellectual processes involved in social planning Professor Kahn provides critical tools for the analysis of the planning process and shows what social planning is and can be Clarifying the major phases in the planning process he shows how planning can succeed or fail at any one of these stages He examined planners in their various roles as neutral technicians and as advocates as representatives of interest groups and as public officials The book describes both the social aspects of planning and the relationship between social and physical plans Theory and Practice of Community Social Work Samuel H. Taylor, Robert W. Roberts, 1985 International Encyclopedia of Social Policy Tony Fitzpatrick, Huck-ju Kwon, Nick Manning, James Midgley, Gillian Pascall, 2013-07-04 Available in paperback for the first time this milestone work offers an in depth treatment of all aspects of the discipline and practice of social policy globally Supported by a distinguished international advisory board the editors have compiled almost 900 000 words across 734 entries written by 284 leading specialists to provide authoritative coverage of concepts policy actors welfare institutions and services along a series of national regional and transnational dimensions Also included are biographical entries on major policy makers and shapers The editors have particularly striven to provide strong coverage of differing geographical and cultural traditions so that the variety of social policy as both an academic discipline and a domain of governance is reflected Contributors draw in and make the necessary connections with social policy s associated disciplines to provide a rich picture of this vast and highly diverse field Comprehensive and authoritative the Encyclopedia has sought to open up rather than to foreclose the numerous areas in which there is on going research debate and sometimes serious disagreement and divergence in theory and practice To this end entries attempt to introduce a core or common ground of understanding before moving on to a wider discussion of debates regarding different conceptual and geographical approaches The whole is integrated by cross referencing and each entry includes a bibliography for further reading There is a full index The International Encyclopedia of Social Policy provides the most substantial mapping of the international study and practice of social policy to date and will stand as a vital storehouse of knowledge for many years to come

Decentralisation and Community-based Planning International Institute for Environment and Development,2004

Dimensions of Community-Based Projects in Health Care Steven L. Arxer,John W. Murphy,2017-09-19 This salient reference grounds readers in the theoretical basis and day to day practice of community based health care programs and their potential as a transformative force in public health Centering around concepts of self determination empowerment and inclusiveness the book details the roles of physicians research and residents in the transition to self directed initiatives and greater community control Community focused interventions and methods starting with genuine dialogue between practitioners and residents are discussed as keys to understanding local voice and worldview and recognizing residents as active participants and not simply targets of service delivery And coverage pays careful attention to training issues including how clinicians can become involved in community based care without neglecting individual patient needs Among the topics covered are Narrative medicine in the context of community based practice Qualitative and participatory action research Health committees as a community based strategy Dialogue world entry and community based intervention Politics of knowledge in community based work Training physicians with communities Dimensions of Community Based Projects in Health Care challenges sociologists social workers and public health administrators to look beyond traditional biomedical concepts of care and naturalistic methods of research and toward more democratic programs planning and policy The partnerships described in these pages reflect a deep commitment to patients lives and to the future of public health p
