Metcalf, 2005 Do a Marina La Malinche Pocahontas Sacagawea their names live on in historical memory because these women bridged the indigenous American and European worlds opening the way for the cultural encounters, collisions and fusions that shaped the social and even physical landscape of the modern Americas. But these famous individuals were only a few of the many thousands of people who intentionally or otherwise served as go-betweens as Europeans explored and colonized the New World. In this innovative history Alida Metcalf thoroughly investigates the many roles played by go-betweens in the colonization of sixteenth century Brazil. She finds that many individuals created physical links among Europe, Africa and Brazil: explorers, traders, settlers and slaves circulated goods, plants, animals and diseases. Intercultural liaisons produced mixed race children. At the cultural level Jesuit priests and African slaves infused native Brazilian traditions with their own religious practices while translators became influential go-betweens negotiating the terms of trade, interaction and exchange. Most powerful of all as Metcalf shows were those go-betweens who interpreted or represented new lands and peoples through writings, maps, religion and the oral tradition. Metcalf's convincing demonstration that colonization is always mediated by third parties has relevance far beyond the Brazilian case even as it opens a revealing new window on the first century of Brazilian history. Magistracy and Society in Colonial Brazil Stuart B.
