Justice, Power and the Political Landscape Kenneth Olwig, Donald Mitchell, 2019-07-09 Landscape is now on the agenda in a new way The increasing interest in justice power and the political landscape expresses a sea change occurring in the meaning of landscape itself from landscape as scenery to landscape as polity and place As Lionella Scazzosi argues The meaning of the term landscape has become broader than that of a view or panorama which characterized many national protection laws and policies until the middle of the 20th century and that of environment or nature to which it has often been limited during the recent years of environmentalist battles This is reflected in the new European Landscape Convention for which Landscape means an area as perceived by people The tide thus has turned towards J B Jackson's view of landscape as not a scenic or ecological entity but as a political or cultural entity changing in the course of history It is in this socio political context that it becomes necessary to consider the role of power and the importance of justice in the shaping of the landscape as an area of practice and performance with both cultural and environmental implications This book was previously published as two special issues of Landscape Research

The Archaeology and Anthropology of Landscape Robert Layton, Peter Ucko, 2003-09-02 The Archaeology and Anthropology of Landscape contributes to the development of theory in archaeology and anthropology provides new and varied case studies of landscape and environment from five continents and raises important policy issues concerning development and the management of heritage

The Estate Origins of Democracy in Russia Tomila V. Lankina, 2021-12-16 A devastating challenge to the idea of communism as a great leveller this extraordinarily original rigorous and ambitious book debunks Marxism inspired accounts of its equalitarian consequences It is the first study systematically to link the genesis of the bourgeoisie cum middle class Imperial Soviet and post communist to Tzarist estate institutions which distinguished between nobility clergy the urban merchants and meshchane and peasants It demonstrates how the pre communist bourgeoisie particularly the merchant and urban commercial strata but also the high human capital aristocracy and clergy survived and adapted in Soviet Russia Under both Tzarism and communism the estate system engendered an educated autonomous bourgeoisie and professional class along with an oppositional public sphere and persistent social cleavages that continue to plague democratic consensus This book also shows how the middle class conventionally bracketed under one generic umbrella is often two pronged in nature one originating among the educated estates of feudal orders and the other fabricated as part of state induced modernization An Archaeology of Social

Space James A. Delle,2013-06-29 James Delle has solved a number of problems in Caribbean archaeology with An Archaeology of Social Space He deals with most of the problems by using historical archaeology and clearly implicates Americanist prehistorians Although this book is about coffee plantations in the Blue Mountains area of Jamaica it is actually about the whole Caribbean Just as it is about all archaeology not only historical archaeology it is also a book about colonialism and national independence and how these two enormous events happened in the context of eighteenth and nineteenth century capitalism The first issue raised appears to be an academic topic that has come to be known as landscape archaeology Landscape archaeology considers the planned spaces around living places The topic is big comprehensive and new within historical archaeology Its fundamental insight is that in the early modern and modern worlds everything within view could be made into money Seeing occurs in space and from 1450 or a little before everything that could be seen could potentially be measured The measuring and the accompanying culture of recording called a scriptural economy became a way of controlling people in space for a profit Dr Delle thus explores maps local philosophies of settlement town dwelling housing and the actual condition of plantations and their buildings now so as to describe coffee Jamaica from 1790 1860

directedness of human practice has long been neglected in critical socio spatial theory in favor of analyses focused upon distance and proximity This book illustrates the absence of a sense for direction in much theoretical discourse and lays important groundwork for redressing this lacuna in socio spatial theory Many accounts of the social world are incomplete or are increasingly out of step with recent developments of neoliberal capitalism Not least through new technological mediations of production and consumption the much discussed waning of the importance of physical distance has been matched by the increasing centrality of turning from one thing to another as a basic way in which lives are structured and occupied A sensibility for embodied processes of turning and for phenomena of direction more generally is urgently needed Chapters develop wide ranging and original engagements with the arguments of Sara Ahmed Jonathan Beller Edmund Husserl Martin Heidegger Virginia Held Bernard Stiegler Theodore Schatzki Rahel Jaeggi Hartmut Rosa and David Harvey This book reinterprets practice embodiment alienation reification social reproduction and ethical responsibility from a directional perspective It will be a new valuable resource and reference for political and social geography students as well as sociologists and anthropologists
