Sociology and Organization Theory John Hassard, 1995-04-06 It has been claimed that organization theory is in a state of crisis This book traces the history of the orthodox systems theory paradigm in organization studies from its foundations to its recent deconstruction by postmodernists The analysis offers general support for the sociology in crisis thesis but takes issue with one of its main propositions that paradigms are incommensurable It is argued that paradigms are porous rather than hermetic phenomena a fact that has profound implications for the theory building process Organization Theory and Postmodern Thought Stephen Linstead, 2004 Focuses on a major philosopher who has had or should have a major influence on organization theory IBSS: Sociology: 1993 Vol 43 International Committee for Social Science Information and Documentation, 1994 This bibliography lists the most important works published in sociology in 1993 Renowned for its international coverage and rigorous selection procedures the IBSS provides researchers and librarians with the most comprehensive and scholarly bibliographic service available in the social sciences The IBSS is compiled by the British Library of Political and Economic Science at the London School of Economics one of the world's leading social science institutions Published annually the IBSS is available in four subject areas anthropology economics political science and sociology

Managing Nongovernmental Organizations Frederik Claeyé, 2014-03-26 The idea that international development aid needs to be better managed and coordinated gained currency in the early 1990s The increasing emphasis on management has resulted in the present vogue of managing for development results as one of the central tenets in the discourse on international aid But how appropriate are these ideas tools and techniques for non governmental development organizations NGOs and how much does geographic context matter Examining the current debate on aid effectiveness and the role of NGOs in contributing to it this book highlights the critical importance of understanding how the global and the local interact to increase aid efficacy and develop more culturally astute ways of managing NGOs With a focus on NGOs active in sub Saharan Africa as case studies author Frederik Claey demonstrates that NGOs are not mere passive recipients of management knowledge and practices emanating from the global governance structure of international aid but actively engage with these ideas and practices to translate and rework them through a local cultural lens This process results in the emergence of unique hybrid management systems that combine the pressure to become more business like with the mission to satisfy the demands of the communities they serve
