Recalling Recitation in the Americas

Janet Neigh, 2017-01-01 Spoken word is one of the most popular styles of poetry in North America While its prevalence is often attributed to the form's strong ties to oral culture Recalling Recitation in the Americas reveals how poetry memorization and recitation curricula shaped by British Imperial policy influenced contemporary performance practices During the early twentieth century educators frequently used the recitation of canonical poems to instill proper speech and behaviour in classrooms in Canada the Caribbean and the United States Janet Neigh critically analyses three celebrated performance poets E Pauline Johnson Tekahionwake 1861-1913 Langston Hughes 1902-1967 and Louise Bennett 1919-2006 who refashioned recitation to cultivate linguistic diversity and to resist its disciplinary force Through an examination of the dialogues among their poetic projects Neigh illuminates how their complicated legacies as national icons obscure their similar approaches to resisting Anglicization Recalling Recitation in the Americas focuses on the unexplored relationship between education history and literary form and establishes the far reaching effects of poetry memorization and recitation on the development of modern performance poetry in North America Paddling Her Own Canoe Veronica Strong-Boag, Carole Gerson, 2017-06-22 Frequently dismissed as a nature poet and an Indian Princess E Pauline Johnson 1861 1913 was not only an accomplished thinker and writer but a contentious and passionate personality who talked back to Euro Canadian culture Paddling Her Own Canoe is the only major scholarly study that examines Johnson's diverse roles as a First Nations champion New Woman serious writer and performer and Canadian nationalist A Native advocate of part Mohawk ancestry Johnson was also an independent self supporting unmarried woman during the period of first wave feminism Her versatile writings range from extraordinarily erotic poetry to polemical statements about the rights of First Nations Based on thorough research into archival and published sources this volume probes the meaning of Johnson's energetic career and addresses the complexities of her social racial and cultural position While situating Johnson in the context of turn of the century Canada the authors also use current feminist and post colonial perspectives to reframe her contribution Included is the first full chronology ever compiled of Johnson's writing Pauline Johnson was an extraordinary woman who crossed the racial and gendered lines of her time and thereby confounded Canadian society This study reclaims both her writings and her larger significance

Handbook of Native American Literature Andrew Wiget, 2013-06-17 The Handbook of Native American Literature is a unique comprehensive and authoritative guide to the oral and written literatures of Native Americans It lays the perfect foundation for understanding the works of Native American writers Divided into three major sections Native American Oral Literatures The Historical Emergence of Native American Writing and A Native American Renaissance 1967 to the Present it includes 22 lengthy essays written by scholars of the Association for the Study of American Indian Literatures The book features reports on the oral traditions of various tribes and topics such as the relation of the Bible dreams oratory humor autobiography and federal land policies to Native American literature Eight additional essays cover teaching Native American literature new fiction new theater and other important topics and there are bio critical essays on more than 40 writers ranging from William Apes who in the early 19th century denounced white society's treatment of his people to contemporary poet Ray Young Bear Packed with information that was once scattered and scarce the Handbook of Native American Literature a valuable one volume resource is sure to appeal to everyone interested in Native American history culture and literature Previously published in cloth as The Dictionary of Native American Literature At the Bridge Wendy Wickwire, 2019-06-10 At the Bridge chronicles the little known story of James Teit a prolific ethnographer who from 1884 to 1922 worked with and advocated for the Indigenous peoples of British Columbia and the northwestern United States From his base at Spences Bridge BC Teit forged a participant based anthropology that was far ahead of its time

Whereas his contemporaries including famed anthropologist Franz Boas studied Indigenous peoples as members of dying cultures Teit worked with them as members of living cultures resisting colonial influence over their lives and lands Whether recording stories mapping place names or participating in the chiefs fight for fair treatment he made their objectives his own With his allies he produced copious meticulous records an army of anthropologists could not have achieved a fraction of what he achieved in his short life Wickwire s beautifully crafted narrative accords Teit the status he deserves consolidating his place as a leading and innovative anthropologist in his own right

Indigenous Poetics in Canada Neal

McLeod,2014-05-28 Indigenous Poetics in Canada broadens the way in which Indigenous poetry is examined studied and discussed in Canada Breaking from the parameters of traditional English literature studies this volume embraces a wider sense of poetics including Indigenous oralities languages and understandings of place Featuring work by academics and poets the book examines four elements of Indigenous poetics First it explores the poetics of memory collective memory the persistence of Indigenous poetic consciousness and the relationships that enable the Indigenous storytelling process The book then explores the poetics of performance Indigenous poetics exist both in written form and in relation to an audience Third in an examination of the poetics of place and space the book considers contemporary Indigenous poetry and classical Indigenous narratives Finally in a section on the poetics of medicine contributors articulate the healing and restorative power of Indigenous poetry and narratives
