Songs Of Experience Modern American And European Variations On A Universal Theme:

Songs of Experience Martin Jay, 2005-01-10 Few words in both everyday parlance and theoretical discourse have been as rhapsodically defended or as fervently resisted as experience Yet to date there have been no comprehensive studies of how the concept of experience has evolved over time and why so many thinkers in so many different traditions have been compelled to understand it Songs of Experience is a remarkable history of Western ideas about the nature of human experience written by one of our best known intellectual historians With its sweeping historical reach and lucid comparative analysis qualities that have made Martin Jay's previous books so distinctive and so successful Songs of Experience explores Western discourse from the sixteenth century to the present asking why the concept of experience has been such a magnet for controversy Resisting any single overarching narrative Jay discovers themes and patterns that transcend individuals and particular schools of thought and illuminate the entire spectrum of intellectual history As he explores the manifold contexts for understanding experience epistemological religious aesthetic political and historical Jay engages an exceptionally broad range of European and American traditions and thinkers from the American pragmatists and British Marxist humanists to the Frankfurt School and the French poststructuralists and he delves into the thought of individual philosophers as well including Montaigne Bacon Locke Hume and Kant Oakshott Collingwood and Ankersmit Provocative engaging erudite this key work will be an essential source for anyone who joins the ongoing debate about the material linguistic cultural and theoretical meaning of experience in modern cultures

The Holy Spirit and Christian Experience Simeon Zahl, 2020-06-11 In The Holy Spirit and Christian Experience Simeon Zahl presents a fresh vision for Christian theology that foregrounds the relationship between theological ideas and the experiences of Christians He argues that theology is always operating in a vibrant landscape of feeling and desiring and shows that contemporary theology has often operated in problematic isolation from these experiential dynamics He then argues that a theologically serious doctrine of the Holy Spirit not only authorizes but requires attention to Christian experience Against this background Zahl outlines a new methodological approach to Christian theology that attends to the emotional and experiential power of theological ideas This methodology draws on recent interdisciplinary work on affect and emotion which has shown that affects are powerful motivating realities that saturate all dimensions of human thinking and acting In the process Zahl also explains why contemporary theology has often been ambivalent about subjective experience and demonstrates that current discourse about God's activity in the world is often artificially abstracted from experience and embodiment At the heart of the book Zahl proposes a new account of the theology of grace from this experiential and pneumatological perspective Focusing on the work of the Holy Spirit in salvation and sanctification he retrieves insights from Augustine Luther and Philip Melancthon to present an affective and Augustinian vision of salvation as a pedagogy of desire In articulating this vision Zahl engages critically with recent emphasis on participation and theosis in Christian soteriology and charts a new path forward for Protestant theology in a landscape hitherto dominated by the theological visions of Barth and Aquinas Veteran Poetics Kate McLoughlin,2018-05-24 In this first full length study of the war veteran in literature Kate McLoughlin draws new critical attention to a figure central to national life Offering fresh readings of canonical and non canonical works she shows how authors from William Wordsworth to J K Rowling have deployed veterans to explore questions that are simultaneously personal political and philosophical What does a community owe to those who serve it What can be recovered from the past Do people stay the same over time Are there right times of life at which to do certain things Is there value in experience How can wisdom be shared Veteran Poetics features veterans who travel in time cause havoc with their reappearances solve murders refuse to stop talking about the wars they have been in and refuse to say a word about them Through this last trait they also prompt consideration of possible critical responses to silence Handbook on the Experience Economy Jon Sundbo,Flemming Sørensen,2013-09-30 This illuminating Handbook presents the state of the art in the scientific field of experience economy studies It offers a rich and varied collection of contributions that discuss different issues of crucial importance for our understanding of the exp

Educational Experience as Lived: Knowledge, History, Alterity William F. Pinar,2015-02-11 In this volume Pinar enacts his theory of curriculum detailing the relations among knowledge history and alterity The introduction is Pinar s intellectual life history naming the contributions he has made to understanding educational experience Study is the center of educational experience as he demonstrates in the opening chapter The alterity of educational experience is evident in his conceptions of disciplinarity and internationalization interrelated projects of historicization dialogical encounter and recontextualization By reactivating the past not by instrumentalizing the present we can find the future explicated in his studies of the Eight Year Study the Tyler Rationale and the gendering and racialization of U S school reform The interrelation of race and gender is emphasized in the chapters on Ida B Wells and Jane Addams The technologization of education is critiqued through analysis of the achievements of George Grant and Pier Paolo Pasolini The educational project of subjective and social reconstruction is explored through study of Musil s essayism a genre that corrects the problems accompanying ethnography and created by identity politics Histories of Experience in the World of Lived Religion Sari Katajala-Peltomaa,Raisa Maria

Toivo,2022-03-17 At a historic moment when religion shows all its social and political strength in various post modern societies around our globe this fascinating collection of studies from the Middle Ages to twentieth century Europe demonstrates all the richness and innovative force of investigating individual and shared experiences when questioning the cultural political and social place of religion in society It also makes known in English the work of a series of Finnish historians elaborating together a pioneering vision of the notion of experience in the discipline of history Pirooska Nagy Universit du Qu bec Montr al Canada This open access book offers a theoretical introduction to the history of experience on three conceptual levels everyday experience experience as process and experience as structure Chapters apply experience to empirical case studies exploring how people have made and shared their religion through experience in history This book understands experience as a simultaneously socially constructed and intimately personal process that connects individuals to communities and past to future thereby forming structures that create and direct societies It represents the crossroads of a new field of the history of experience and an established tradition of the history of lived religion Chapters offer a longue durée view from the fourteenth century heretics via experiences of miracle madness sickness suffering prayer conversion and death to the religious artisanship of soldiers in the Second World War frontlines It concentrates on Northern Europe but includes materials from Italy France and United Kingdom

Material Inspirations Jonah Siegel, 2020-10-14 This book is a study of the complex relationship between matter and idea that shaped the nineteenth century culture of art and that in turn determined the course of still current accounts of art's nature and value Fundamental questions about the effects of material conditions on the creation and reception of art arose as early as the nineteenth century and put important pressures on later eras The place of class distinctions in the making and reception of art the relationship between copy and original the effects of display on art appreciation even the role of pleasure itself this book treats these and related issues as productive conceptual challenges with an unresolved relationship to matter at their core Drawing on recent scholarship on the history of art and its institutions Material Inspirations places cultural developments such as the emergence of new sites for exhibition and the astonishing proliferation of printed reproductions alongside a wide range of texts including novels poems travel guidebooks compendia of antiquities and especially the great line of critical writing that emerged in the period The study vivifies a dynamic era which is still too often seen as static and unchanging by emphasizing the transformations taking place throughout the period in precisely those areas that have appeared to promise little more than repetition or continuity collection exhibition and reproduction The book culminates with the two great critics of the period John Ruskin and Walter Pater but it also includes close analysis of other prose writers as well as poets and novelists ranging from William Blake to Robert Browning George Eliot to Henry James Significant developments addressed include the vogue for the representation of Old Masters in the first half of the century ongoing innovations in the creation and diffusion of reproductions and the emergence of the field of art history itself At the heart of each of these the book identifies a material pressure shaping concepts texts and works of art

Ideologies of Experience Matthew H. Bowker, 2016-03-22 Matthew H Bowker offers a novel analysis of experience the vast and influential concept that has shaped Western social theory and political practice for the past half millennium While it is difficult to find a branch of modern thought science industry or art that has not relied in some way on the notion of experience in defining its assumptions or aims no study has yet applied a politically conscious and psychologically sensitive critique to the construct of experience Doing so reveals that most of the qualities that have been attributed to experience over the centuries particularly its unthinkability its correspondence with suffering and its occlusion of the self are part of unlikely fantasies or ideologies By analyzing a series of related cases including the experiential education movement the ascendancy of trauma theory the philosophy of the social contract and the psychological study of social isolation the book builds a convincing case that ideologies of experience are invoked not to keep us close to lived realities and things in themselves but rather to distort and destroy true knowledge of ourselves and others In spite of enduring admiration for those who may be called champions of experience such as Michel de Montaigne Ralph Waldo Emerson and others treated throughout the work the ideologies of experience ultimately discourage individuals and groups from creating resisting and changing our experience urging us instead to embrace trauma failure deprivation and self abandonment

History, Abolition, and the Ever-present Now in Antebellum American Writing Jeffrey Insko, 2018 Examines the meaning and possibilities of the present and its relationship to history and historicity in the writings of several familiar figures in antebellum US literary history

Experience, Evidence, and Sense Anna Wierzbicka, 2010 Anna Wierzbicka demonstrates that three uniquely English words evidence experience and sense are linchpins for whole networks of meanings and that penetrating the meanings of such key words can open our eyes to an entire cultural universe

The Russian Revolution, 1905-1921 Mark D. Steinberg, 2016-11-17 The Russian Revolution 1905 1921 is a new history of Russia's revolutionary era as a story of experience of people making sense of history as it unfolded in their own lives and as they took part in making history themselves The major events trends and explanations reaching from Bloody Sunday in 1905 to the final shots of the civil war in 1921 are viewed through the doubled perspective of the professional historian looking backward and the contemporary journalist reporting and interpreting history as it happened The volume then turns toward particular places and people city streets peasant villages the margins of empire Central Asia Ukraine the Jewish Pale women and men workers and intellectuals artists and activists utopian visionaries and discontents of all kinds We spend time with the famous Vladimir Lenin Lev Trotsky Alexandra Kollontai Vladimir Mayakovsky Isaac Babel and with those whose names we don't even know Key themes include difference and inequality social economic gendered ethnic power and resistance violence and ideas about justice and freedom Written especially for students and general readers this history relies extensively on contemporary texts and voices in order to bring the past and its meanings to life This is a history about dramatic and uncertain times and especially about the interpretations values emotions desires and disappointments that made history matter to those who lived it Theology, Creation, and Environmental Ethics Whitney Bauman, 2009-04-30 Winner of the John Templeton Award for Theological Promise 2009 This book argues that the Christian doctrine of creatio ex nihilo sets up a support system for a logic of domination over others It follows a genealogical method in examining how the concept of creation out of nothing materializes in the world throughout different periods in the history of the Christian West Varieties of Aesthetic Experience Craig Bradshaw Woelfel, 2018-10-15 An exploration of belief as an experience both secular and religious through the study of major literary works At the height of modernism in the 1920s what did it mean to believe and how was it experienced Craig Woelfel seeks to answer this pivotal question in Varieties of Aesthetic Experience Literary Modernism and Dissociation of Belief a groundbreaking exploration of the relationship between secular modernity and religious engagement Woelfel hinges his argument on the unlikely comparison of two revered modern writers T S Eliot and E M Forster They had vastly different experiences with religion as Eliot converted to Christianity later in life and Forster became a steadfast nonbeliever over time but Woelfel contends that their stories offer a compelling model for belief as broken and ambivalent rather than constant Narratives of faith its loss or gain are no longer linear but instead are just as fractured and varied as the modernists themselves Drawing from Eliot s and Forster s major and minor creative and critical works Woelfel makes the case for a dissociation of belief during the modern era a separation of emotional and spiritual religious experience from its reduction to forms He contextualizes belief in the modern era alongside modernist religious studies scholarship and current secularization theory with particular attention to Charles Taylor s A Secular Age paving the way for a more nuanced understanding of religious engagement at the time In Varieties of Aesthetic Experience Woelfel considers major literary works including Eliot s The Waste Land and Forster s A Passage to India as well as the Cambridge Clark Lectures and previously unstudied personal writings from both authors The volume revolves around a line from Eliot himself from a lecture in which he said that he wanted to see art and to see it whole Rather than excluding belief from the conversation Woelfel contends that modernist art can become a critical liminal space for exploring what it means to believe in a secular age Sarah Osborn's Collected Writings Sarah Osborn, 2017-06-27 Riveting and eloquent the collected writings of a key figure and one of the first female leaders of the eighteenth century evangelical movement Sarah Osborn 1714 1796 was one of the most charismatic female religious leaders of her time and one of relatively few colonial women whose writings have been preserved This volume reprints selections from Osborn s fascinating manuscripts including her memoir letters and diaries An evangelical Christian who led popular revival meetings at her own home Osborn was also a gifted writer who recorded the story of her life In thousands of pages of manuscripts Osborn chronicled her personal struggles alongside the great events of her age including the Great Awakening the French and Indian War the moral crisis posed by slavery and the American Revolution A rare opportunity to hear an early American woman speak about her faith and her religious leadership this masterfully edited work is also an invaluable resource for understanding the rise of evangelical Christianity

The Location of Experience Adela Pinch, 2024-10-15 We tend to feel that works of fiction give us special access to lived experience But how do novels cultivate that feeling Where exactly does experience reside The Location of Experience argues that paradoxically novels create experience for us not by bringing reality up close but by engineering environments in which we feel constrained from acting By excavating the history of the rise of experience as an important category of Victorian intellectual life this book reveals how experience was surprisingly tied to emotions of remorse and regret for some of the era's great women novelists the Brontës George Eliot Margaret Oliphant and Elizabeth Gaskell It shows how these writers passed ideas about experience and experiences themselves among each other Drawing on intellectual history psychology and moral philosophy The Location of Experience shows that through manipulating the psychological dimensions of fiction's formal features Victorian women novelists produced a philosophical account of experience that rivaled and complemented that of the male philosophers of the period external mediators in creating tourist experiences This handbook is the first to fill a notable gap in the tourism literature and collate within a single volume critical insights into the diverse elements of the tourist experience today It will be of key interest to academics and students across the fields of tourism hospitality management geography marketing and consumer behaviour

Religious Experience and the Creation of Scripture Mark Wreford, 2021-01-28 This volume examines the reasons that prompted the New Testament writers to create the texts which would become the formation of the Christian religion exploring the possibility that certain religious experiences were understood as revelatory and consequently inspired the writing of texts which were seen as special from their inception Mark Wreford uses Luke Acts and Galatians as test cases within the New Testament reflecting both on the stated importance of religious experiences whether the author's own or others to the development of these texts and the status the texts claim for themselves Wreford suggests that Luke Acts offers a helpful example of the relationship between religious experience and the creation of Scripture as an extensive narrative which reflects on early Christian claims to Spirit inspired witness and which begins with an explicit authorial statement of purpose Similarly in Galatians Paul's autobiographical account of God's revelation of Christ to him is the foundation of a letter that is intended to play an authoritative role in shaping its addressee's own faith and practice Wreford argues that religious experiences are presented as the driving force behind the creation of the texts examining how such religious experience links with notions of scripture and canonicity He then asserts that both Luke and Paul understood themselves to be creating new scriptural writings on the basis of their relationship to new religious experiences citing the experience and speech at Pentecost the inclusion of gentiles in the experience and Paul's own conversion experience as key elements behind the self understanding of these New Testament authors
