examined and reveals the Institute's contribution to the Folk Revival as well as providing a valuable context within which to understand the National Federation's first music commission Ralph Vaughan Williams's Folk Songs of the Four Seasons 1950 This work and the Institute's second commission Malcolm Williamson's The Brilliant and the Dark 1969 are examined with the context of the organization's music policy In addition to discussing the background to the works issues of critical reception are addressed The book concludes with an Epilogue about the National Society Choir later known as the Avalon Singers which tested the organization's commitment to amateur music making The book is the result of meticulous work undertaken in the archives of the National Federation the BBC Written Archives Centre the V A archives the Britten Pears Library the Ralph Vaughan Williams Library the Women's Library and the Newspaper Library
