Society and the Environment Joseph Zajda, 2002 Using both local and global perspectives examines some of the major issues in the study of society and environment Focuses on the study of people as social beings and the way they interact with each other within society and culture and the environment Aims to empower future teachers to act as informed and committed educators

Reflections on Classroom Thinking Strategies Eric Frangenheim, 2005-11-05 Designed to encourage a passion for teaching this excellent resource helps teachers create a classroom climate that empowers all students to be better thinkers

Creating Curricula: Aims, Knowledge and Control Dominic Wyse, 2018-03-08 Knowledge has been a defining focus for the curriculum studies field In the early part of the 21st century convincing arguments were mounted that knowledge needed to be brought back in both to the curriculum of schools and to the attention of curriculum researchers This book is a result of these arguments and what some regarded as a crisis in curriculum study related to the growing emphasis on international comparisons between education systems The book s most important contribution is to build on seminal work in the sociology and philosophy of education in order to develop new foundations for curriculum study using the importance of transactions as the context for understanding knowledge in the curriculum The contributors build on this importance to suggest a rapprochement in the field around the idea of curriculum knowledge as both constructed and real This book was originally published as a special issue of The Curriculum Journal
