Information and Reflection

P.K. Kirschenmann, 2012-12-06 The occasion for this work was provided by the recent Marxist Leninist philosophic publications on problems involving the term information and by the extensive discussions of ideas originating in cybernetics Thus the issues are quite recent which explains some peculiarities of our approach Our main effort has been toward the clarification and systematization of questions on information which arise in the context of cybernetics Where basic questions are involved one is brought back to traditional issues as is often the case when dealing with a novel subject Stress on questions drawn from physics is due to the author's professional involvement in this field This work was written under the direction of Professor J M Bochenski principally in the context of a special program at the Institute of East European Studies of the University of Fribourg Switzerland a program carried out by Professor Bochenski with the collaboration of Dr S Muller Markus Participation in the special program was made possible by a grant from the West German Innenministerium Completion of the work was subsidized by the Bundesinstitut für ostwissenschaftliche und internationale Studien in Cologne Our thanks go to these persons and organisations who are in no way responsible for the content of the work Givisiez May 1967 TRANSLATOR S NOTE Although we have made use of the works of Cherry and MacKay cited in the bibliography our translation of many terms may still seem some what arbitrary to some readers The explanation for this is threefold

Connectivity in Grammar and Discourse Jochen Rehbein, Christiane Hohenstein, Lukas Pietsch, 2007-06-05 In this collection of carefully selected papers connectivity is looked at from the vantage points of language contact language change language acquisition multilingual communication and related domains based on various European and Non European languages From typological and multilingual perspectives the focus of investigation is on the grammatical architecture of a number of linguistic devices that interconnect units of text and discourse The volume is organized along central concepts A general section deals with connectivity in language change and language acquisition subdivisions are devoted to pronouns topics and subjects the role of finiteness in text and discourse coordination and subordination and particles adverbials and constructions The editors preface introduces connectivity as an object of linguistic research

Language in Literature Geoffrey Leech, 2014-07-15 Over a period of over forty years Geoffrey Leech has made notable contributions to the field of literary stylistics using the interplay between linguistic form and literary function as a key to the mystery of how a text comes to be invested with artistic potential In this book seven earlier papers and articles read previously only by a restricted audience have been brought together with four new chapters the whole volume showing a continuity of approach across a period when all too often literary and linguistic studies have appeared to drift further apart Leech sets the concept of foregrounding also known as defamiliarization at the heart of the interplay between form and interpretation Through practical and insightful examination of how poems plays and prose works produce special meaning he counteracts the flight from the text that has characterized thinking about language and literature in the last thirty years when the response of the reader rather than the characteristics and meaning potential of the text itself have been given undue prominence The book provides an enlightening analysis of well known as well as less well known texts of great writers of the past including Keats Shelley Samuel Johnson Shaw Dylan Thomas and Virginia Woolf

The Linguistics of Humor Salvatore Attardo, 2020-06-25 This book is the first comprehensive and systematic introduction to the linguistics of humor Salvatore Attardo takes a broad approach to the topic exploring not only theoretical linguistic analyses but also pragmatic and semantic aspects conversation and discourse analysis ethnomethodology and interactionist and variationist sociolinguistics The volume begins with chapters that introduce the terminology and conceptual and methodological apparatus as well as outlining the major theories in the field and examining incongruity and resolution and the semiotics of humor The second part of the book explores humor competence with chapters that cover semantic and pragmatic topics the General Theory of Verbal Humor and puns and their interpretation The third part provides an in depth discussion of the applied linguistics of humor and examines social context discourse and conversation analysis and sociolinguistic aspects In the final part of the book the discussion is extended beyond the central field of linguistics with chapters discussing humor in literature in translation and in the classroom The volume brings together the multiple strands of current knowledge about humor and linguistics both theoretical and applied it assumes no prior background in humor studies and will be a valuable resource for students from advanced undergraduate level upwards particularly those coming to linguistics from related disciplines

The Spatial Foundations of Cognition and Language Kelly S. Mix, Linda B. Smith, Michael Gasser, 2010 This book presents recent research on the role of space as a mechanism in language use and learning Experimental psychologists computer scientists robotocists linguists and researchers in child language consider the nature and applications of this research and its implications for understanding the processes involved in language acquisition

The Linguistic Past in Twelfth-Century Britain Sara Harris, 2017-10-12 This book shows how depictions of etymology were used by twelfth century poets translators bureaucrats and historians to portray Britain's past

Theoretical Knowledge Viacheslav Semenovich Stepin, 2005-07-12 He shows direct and inverse links between foundations of science and new theories and empirical facts evolved from those how among many potentially possible histories of science a culture selects just those directions which become a real history of science The author analyses mechanisms of the generation of scientific theories and shows that those are changed in the process of historical development of science He displays three historical types of scientific rationality classical non classical and post non classical which appears in modern science and shows features of their coexistence and interplay It is shown that along with the emerging of post non classical rationality science increases the sphere of its worldview applications Science begins to correlate not only with the basic values of technogenic civilization but also with some values and patterns of traditional cultures
