The Sandy Knoll Murder, Legacy of the Sheepshooters Melany Tupper, 2010-12-23 The Sandy Knoll Murder Legacy of the Sheepshooters is the true story of the high profile 1904 murder of John Creed Conn who disappeared in the midst of central Oregon's bloody range war period That circumstance has always been believed to have precipitated his death Sensational and intriguing the details of the murder held the reading public in rapt attention with articles appearing on the front page of the Oregonian for nine months after Conn's mysterious disappearance It is not very often that a prominent man a celebrity vanishes from the main street of an Oregon town in broad daylight And even less often does a missing man's body reappear on a small sandy knoll outside of that same town seven weeks later This work is the result of six years of painstaking research that encompassed eighty other homicides and suspicious deaths of the period Conn's life and relationships the circumstances of his death and all that was ever written by and about the sheepshooters All of the planning that the killer put into making Conn vanish showed a high level of control and organization on his part But he did unwittingly leave some clues to his identity and they could be traced like fingerprints through the ink of the newspapers of the day Other clues were left like footprints in the soil surrounding the Sandy Knoll and in the behaviors that he exhibited there Conn was the brother of a district attorney and a member of a politically prominent and well connected family He was a local celebrity and a respected figure and there could be no doubt that a massive man hunt and investigation would ensue Every effort has been made to adhere to the facts of the case long held as the legacy of the sheepshooters The Creed Conn murder was then and remains today one of the most sensational in the history of the state of Oregon Bayfield and the Pine River Valley, 1880-1960 John Laddie, 2002 With the climate elevation and abundance of water early settlers to the Pine River Valley found that the area was ideal for prosperous settlements and the growing of crops Captured here in over 200 vintage images are the trials and triumphs of these early pioneers determined to develop the land and carve a niche for themselves in the San Juan Mountains Named Rio de Los Pinos by 18th century Spanish explorers the Pine River Valley boasts some of the richest land in Southwestern Colorado As pioneers and settlers became aware of these natural resources towns sprouted up throughout the valley proper One of these communities was historic Bayfield Pictured here are the earliest days of the community including the homesteads lumber camps churches downtown buildings and businesses no longer existing as well as the events and residents who helped forge the town's destiny Rabbit Creek Country Jon Thiem, Deborah Dimon, 2008-10-16 In 1997 Jon Thiem was hiking in Livermore country near Fort Collins Colorado Following one fork of Rabbit Creek he discovered an abandoned house and literally walked into the lives of John and Ida Elliott and Miss Josephine Lamb Always curious about earlier inhabitants of this land and conscious of the changes wrought by modern sprawl on its use and character Thiem pursued the story of these former ranchers for nearly a decade What Thiem and research associate Deborah Dimon discovered is that the three had an unconventional living arrangement that endured for over forty years a relationship that had as much to do with their love of the land as of each other John Elliott's father moved his growing family from Iowa to Kansas in the 1880s then to northern Colorado in 1890 when John was twelve He worked as a ranch hand and eventually became one of the biggest landowners in the area Ida Meyer ventured west from Nebraska in 1897 A serious amateur photographer she worked as a waitress and pie lady at the local hotel until she was in her early thirties She and John finally tied the knot in 1908 and in 1910 he bought a thousand acres on Middle Rabbit Creek Josephine Lamb grew up in the country west of Fort Collins Graduating from high school in 1916 she became a mountain teacher traveling to small remote schools Miss Lamb moved to the Elliott s ranch in 1919 to teach their only child Buck until he left for high school She lived at Rabbit Creek Ranch possibly as John Elliott s lover for many years after that acquiring her own land as time went by Tracing the flawed humanity of these three intertwined lives opens a window on life in the mountain West throughout the last century including ranching methods and women s changing roles as wives mothers and property owners Dutch John Excavations ,2000
