still rated as one of the best documentaries ever made Before that she was acclaimed for her roles in silent feature films when German cinema was in its artistic heyday in the 1920s She pioneered the box office success of such classic mountaineering dramas as The White Hell of Piz Palu and then began to direct her own films The Blue Light was admired by Hitler and led to her filming the Wagnerian Nuremberg Rally of 1934 After the war she was shunned by the film industry despite a court in 1952 proclaiming her not guilty of supporting the Nazis in a punishable way Her undoubted charisma led to many affairs and grandiose schemes deep sea diving in her seventies and still filming wildlife in her nineties Audrey Salkeld has sifted the fact from the legend and gives us a moving portrait of the great movie star who suffered more in the wilderness than her enduring fame suggests

Driven to Darkness Vincent Brook, 2009-09-18 From its earliest days the American film industry has attracted European artists With the rise of Hitler filmmakers of conscience in Germany and other countries particularly those of Jewish origin found it difficult to survive and fled for their work and their lives to the United States Some had trouble adapting to Hollywood but many were celebrated for their cinematic contributions especially to the dark shadows of film noir Driven to Darkness explores the influence of Jewish TmigrT directors and the development of this genre While filmmakers such as Fritz Lang Billy Wilder Otto Preminger and Edward G Ulmer have been acknowledged as crucial to the noir canon the impact of their Jewishness on their work has remained largely unexamined until now Through lively and original analyses of key films Vincent Brook penetrates the darkness shedding new light on this popular film form and the artists who helped create it

A New History of German Cinema Jennifer M. Kapczynski, Michael David Richardson, 2012 A dynamic event centered exploration of the hundred year history of German language film This dynamic event centered anthology offers a new understanding of the hundred year history of German language film from the earliest days of the Kintopp to contemporary productions like The Lives of Others Each of the more than eighty essays takes a key date as its starting point and explores its significance for German film history pursuing its relationship with its social political and aesthetic moment While the essays offer ample temporal and topical spread this book emphasizes the juxtaposition of famous and unknown stories granting attention to a wide range of cinematic events Brief section introductions provide a larger historical and film historical framework that illuminates the essays within it offering both scholars and the general reader a setting for the individual texts and figures under investigation Cross references to other essays in the book are included at the close of each entry encouraging readers not only to pursue familiar trajectories in the development of German film but also to trace particular figures and motifs across genres and historical periods Together the contributions offer a new view of the multiple intersecting narratives that make up German language cinema The constellation that is thus established challenges unidirectional narratives of German film history and charts new ways of thinking about film historiography more broadly Jennifer Kapczynski is Associate Professor of German at Washington University St Louis and Michael Richardson is Associate Professor of German at Ithaca College release     Framing the Past Bruce Arthur Murray, Chris Wickham, 1992 Eleven essays emerging from an October 1988 symposium titled Concepts of Cinema in German History held at the U of Illinois at Chicago explore the complex network of social political and religious institution that have influenced the historiography of German cinema and television Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR     Jew Suss Susan Tegel, 2011-06-09 Joseph Suss Oppenheimer 1698 1738 better known as Jew Suss was a court Jew who advised the Duke of Wurttemberg Clever and handsome even ostentatious he fitted easily into court life despite his humble origins However his unpopular economic policies made him enemies and when the Duke died suddenly Suss was arrested convicted of destestable abuses and executed in Stuttgart in an iron cage His spectacular rise and fall inspired a media outpouring in the eighteenth century and he has been much written about subsequently In the twentieth century two films were made about him one British in 1934 the other German in 1940 Goebbels took an active interest in the latter After the war its director Veit Harlan was tried for Crimes against Humanity for having made the film Despite his acquittal the film s association with the Holocaust remains controversial to this day For almost three centuries the life of Jew Suss has been adapted distorted and transformed This book tells the story of these transformations     The Blue Angel (Der Blaue Engel) S.S. Prawer, 2019-07-25 This comprehensive study reconstructs the production history of The Blue Angel 1930 showing how director Josef von Sternberg s virtuoso visual style was amply supported by an immensely talented team of actors and technicians It also analyzes the film s aesthetics and shows how the grave political situation in Germany reverberated in its seemingly airtight world One of the most famous images in cinema is to be found in the film The Blue Angel 1930 Lola Lola Marlene Dietrich in revealing black suspenders sits on a beer barrel clasping an upraised knee with both hands while she leans slightly back Though not Germany s first sound film it was at the time the most prestigious and expensive by far Sternberg had been lured back from Hollywood and together with acting star Emil Jannings and producer Erich Pommer he set about making an adaptation of Heinrich Mann s novel Professor Unrat The result is a subtly claustrophobic study of a man s downfall which is a milestone in European cinema     Shell Shock Cinema Anton Kaes, 2009-08-24 How war trauma haunted the films of Weimar Germany Shell Shock Cinema explores how the classical German cinema of the Weimar Republic was haunted by the horrors of World War I and the the devastating effects of the nation s defeat In this exciting new book Anton Kaes argues that masterworks such as The Cabinet of Dr Caligari Nosferatu The Nibelungen and Metropolis even though they do not depict battle scenes or soldiers in combat engaged the war and registered its tragic aftermath These films reveal a wounded nation in post traumatic shock reeling from a devastating defeat that it never officially acknowledged let alone accepted Kaes uses the term shell shock coined during World War I to describe soldiers suffering from nervous breakdowns as a metaphor for the psychological wounds that found expression in Weimar cinema Directors like Robert Wiene F W Murnau and Fritz Lang portrayed paranoia panic and fear of invasion in films peopled with serial killers mad scientists and troubled young men Combining original close textual analysis with extensive archival research Kaes shows how this post traumatic cinema of shell shock transformed extreme psychological states into visual expression how it pushed the limits of cinematic representation with its fragmented story lines distorted perspectives and stark lighting and how it helped create a modernist film language that anticipated film noir and remains incredibly influential today A compelling contribution to the cultural history of trauma Shell Shock Cinema exposes how German film gave expression to the loss and acute grief that lay behind Weimar s sleek façade

Enchanted by Cinema Jan-Christopher Horak,Andréas-Benjamin Seyfert,2024-05-03 William Thiele is remembered today as the father of the sound film operetta with seminal classics such as Drei von der Tankstelle 1930 While often considered among the most accomplished directors of Late Weimar cinema as an Austrian Jew he was vilified during the onset of the Nazi regime in 1933 and fled to the United States where he continued making films until the end of his career in 1960 Enchanted by Cinema closely examines the European musical film pioneer s work and his cross cultural perspective across forty years of filmography in Berlin and Hollywood to account for his popularity while discussing issues of ethnicity exile comedy music gender and race
