Social Development and Absolute Poverty in Asia and Latin America Willy De Geyndt, 1996-01-01 Using econometric techniques analyzes causes of widespread poverty in Latin America and the 10 largest East and South Asian countries Concludes that slow economic growth is not the only explanatory variable and cites importance of schools and health care Handbook of Latin American Studies v 57 Urban Air Quality Management Strategy in Asia Jitendra J. Shah, Tanvi Nagpal, 1997-01-01 World Bank Technical Paper No 381 Swelling urban populations and increased concentration of industry and automotive traffic in Asia's cities has resulted in severe air pollution The goal of the Urban Air Quality Management Strategy is to assist in designing and implementing policies and monitoring and managing tools to improve air quality in the major Asian metropolitan areas This report focuses on the development of an air quality management system for Greater Mumbai Bombay India Measures to reduce air pollution in this area focus on a traffic and action plan for air pollution abatement that takes into account the economic costs and benefits of abatement measures Urban Air Quality Management Strategy in Asia Jitendra J. Shah, Tanvi Nagpal, 1997 Social Sciences Katherine D. McCann, 2000-12-01 Beginning with volume 41 1979 the University of Texas Press became the publisher of the Handbook of Latin American Studies the most comprehensive annual bibliography in the field Compiled by the Hispanic Division of the Library of Congress and annotated by a corps of more than 130 specialists in various disciplines the Handbook alternates from year to year between social sciences and humanities The Handbook annotates works on Mexico Central America the Caribbean and the Guianas Spanish South America and Brazil as well as materials covering Latin America as a whole Most of the subsections are preceded by introductory essays that serve as biannual evaluations of the literature and research under way in specialized areas The Handbook of Latin American Studies is the oldest continuing reference work in the field Katherine D. McCann is acting editor for this volume The subject categories for Volume 57 are as follows Electronic Resources for the Social Sciences Anthropology Economics Geography Government and Politics International Relations Sociology The Impact of Drought on Sub-Saharan African Economies Charlotte Benson, Edward J. Clay, 1998-01-01 Little effort has been made to research the nonagricultural or economywide macroeconomic impact of droughts in Sub-Saharan Africa In an effort to fill the gap this paper reports the findings of an exploratory study of the subject It provides insights into the impact of drought in Sub-Saharan Africa in the past and suggests policy options for dealing with future droughts Sector Investment Programs in Africa Stephen P. Jones, 1997-01-01 South Asia has made much progress in deregulation and liberalization in the 1990s but it still remains one of the least integrated regions in the world However this general trend masks wide disparities among South Asian nations the larger economies tend to be more highly protected with low import penetration rates while the smaller economies are relatively more open If the current reform program continues the benefits of liberalization will translate into higher growth This report reviews the regions economic performance from an international perspective and the steps taken to increase integration especially in terms of financial integration increased foreign direct investment portfolio and capital flows and regional integration intra regional trade regional arrangements Chapters also discuss the economic outlook for the region and prospects for South Asian exports such as textiles and clothing

Review of Early Childhood Policy and Programs in Sub-Saharan Africa Amy Jo Reinhold, 1997-01-01 The collaborative efforts of Colombia's Department of National Planning DNP and the World Bank has produced the National Evaluation System of Public Sector Performance SYNERGY Put in place by the Special Division for Evaluation in DNP this system has been designed and implemented to change the public sector from an inward looking process oriented body which sometimes restrains economic and social progress into a more dynamic results oriented partner of the community and private sector in development This report explores the critical factors in making SYNERGY a successful evaluation system Such factors include ways of making it an effective management tool promoting civil society participation by focusing on results for people and leveraging on their energy and resource defining a constructive learning process for implementation and providing an enabling environment for a results oriented public sector

A Survey of Health Reform in Central Asia Jeni Klugman, George Schieber, Timothy E. Heleniak, 1996-01-01 World Bank Technical Paper No 352 Six years into the transition from planned to market economies in Central and Eastern Europe high unemployment rates including a growing proportion of the long term unemployed represent a serious challenge to social welfare systems and policymakers This paper analyzes labor market development in nine transition countries of the region by focusing on the dynamics of labor force behavior employment and unemployment The countries include Bulgaria Croatia the Czech Republic the Former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia Hungary Poland Romania the Slovak Republic and Slovenia

Measuring the Impact of Climate Change on Indian Agriculture Ariel Dinar, 1998-01-01 Using the Ricardian approach a cross sectional analysis of farm performance across different climate zones this report examines the impact of climate change on the agriculture sector and the sector's adaptation to that change Studies in the report measure the climate sensitivity of low capital agriculture test whether actual farm performance is as sensitive to climate as agronomic models predict and compare the climate sensitivity of low capital farms with the results already calibrated for U S agriculture The goal of the study is to examine farm behavior and test whether there is any evidence that farmers in developing countries currently adjust to their local climates

International Competitiveness in Latin America and East Asia Klaus Esser, Wolfgang Hillebrand, Dirk Messner, Jörg Meyer-Stamer, 2012-10-12 First published in 1993 Latin America is undergoing a process of profound economic and social change The industrial import substitution that continued for several decades was quantitatively successful in terms of industrialization but like inward oriented industrialization in the socialist countries failed to raise the economies of the region to international productivity levels The attempt at catch up industrialization outside the reference frame of the world market led to economic stagnation social crises serious environmental degradation and the obstruction of social development The following papers included in this book show that the development of competitive advantages is initially determined by the new macro policy and by modernization at enterprise level

Insecurity and Welfare Regimes in Asia, Africa and Latin America Ian Gough, Geof Wood, 2004-02-26 Written by a team of internationally respected experts this book explores the conditions under which social policy defined as the public pursuit of secure welfare operates in the poorer regions of the world Social policy in advanced capitalist countries operates through state intervention to compensate for the inadequate welfare outcomes of the labour market Such welfare regimes cannot easily be reproduced in poorer regions of the world where states suffer problems of governance and labour markets are imperfect and partial Other welfare regimes therefore prevail involving non state actors such as landlords moneylenders and patrons This book seeks to develop a conceptual framework for understanding different types of welfare regime in a range of countries in Asia Latin America and Africa and makes an important contribution to the literature by breaking away from the traditional focus on Europe and North America

Trends in Health Status, Services, and Finance: Statistical annex Ellen Goldstein, 1996-01-01 Education systems in more than 50 countries most of them in the industrial world have in recent years shown an interest in obtaining information on what their students have actually learned as a result of their educational experiences This interest has been manifested either by developing national procedures to assess students achievements or by participating in international studies of student achievement This book provides introductory information on ways of assessing the learning outcomes of education systems It considers the nature choice and use of indicators and describes numerous approaches to assessing learning outcomes in selected industrial countries the United States and the United Kingdom and developing countries Chile Colombia Mauritius Namibia and Thailand The authors also review systems of comparative international assessment and debate whether developing countries should participate in them The book contains boxes and tables an appendix features a national assessment checklist

Financial Market Fragmentation and Reforms in Sub-Saharan Africa Ernest

Aryeetey, 1997-01-01 FIAS Occasional Paper No 9 Many developing countries have made dramatic progress in promoting private sector participation in their infrastructure sectors especially with the help of foreign investors However this has not been the case in Southern and Eastern Africa which have been perceived as relatively unattractive locations for investment This paper describes the state of infrastructure in the region takes stock of actual and potential projects in the various sectors and analyzes the main impediments to private investment in the region s infrastructure services

Freshwater Biodiversity in Asia Maurice Kottelat, Tony Whitten, 1996-01-01 World Bank Discussion Paper No 337 Draws on household survey data from 87 rural villages in Bangladesh to examine the contribution that government family planning programs as well as other health care interventions have made toward the recent reduction in fertility by increasing contraceptive use and reducing infant mortality The paper suggests that the programs have been effective and finds that targeted credit program placement such as the Grameen Bank and the Bangladesh Rural Advancement Committee BRAC contributed to the effort as well      The Niger Household Energy Project Gerald Foley,1997-01-01 World Bank Discussion Paper No 360 Over the last two decades banking systems in Latin America have been subject to considerable banking distress and numerous crises This conference looked at proposals for preventing such episodes The discussions covered the genesis and implications of deposit insurance cum fractional reserve requirements the experience with market based regulations in Chile and in New Zealand and the narrow banking proposal 100 percent reserves on demand deposits with a discussion of how Argentina's path towards this type of banking system helped this country weather its 1995 banking crisis Contributors include central bank presidents Argentina Chile Costa Rica and Nicaragua and directors Colombia heads of regulatory agencies and banking centers Bolivia and Mexico rating agencies Brazil private bankers World Bank economists and academics      New Evaluation Procedures for a New Generation of Water-related Projects Ronald G. Cummings,Ariel Dinar,Douglas Olson,1996-01-01 This groundbreaking study presents the results of a large survey of more than 400 industrial firms in Russia conducted by the World Bank in mid 1994 The survey examined the role and organization of the enterprise sector which is a key issue in transition economies particularly in Russia where a concerted attempt has been made to change ownership arrangements and hence corporate governance More than half the firms surveyed are in the private sector the rest remain in state hands or are partially privatized A major focus of the book is to understand whether the Russian privatization has led to improvements in corporate governance The authors identify some initial positive changes but also find that the manner in which privatization has occurred has not yet had a strong effect on the internal operations of Russian industrial firms However they do find evidence from their sample of significant growth in new firms The volume examines the positive and negative aspects of restructuring employment and workers compensation issues budget constraints the effects of privatization on employee behavior and future prospects for Russian firms      Incentives for Joint Forest Management in India Ian Hill,Dermot Shields,1998 Joint Forest Management JFM has emerged as an important intervention in the management of India's forest resources This report sets out an analytical method for examining the costs and benefits of JFM arrangements Two pilot case studies in which the method was used demonstrate interesting outcomes regarding incentives for various groups to participate The main objective of this study is to develop a better understanding of the incentives for communities to participate in JFM

Privatization and Restructuring in Central and Eastern Europe Gerhard Pohl,1997-01-01 Why do women in most developing countries lag behind men in literacy Why do women get less schooling than men This anthology examines the educational decisions that deprive women of an equal education It assembles the most up to date data organized by region Each paper links the data with other measures of economic and social development This approach helps explain the effects different levels of education have on women's fertility mortality rates life expectancy and income Also described are the effects of women's education on family welfare The authors look at family size and women's labor status and earnings They examine child and maternal health as well as investments in children's education. Their investigation demonstrates that women with a better education enjoy greater economic growth and provide a more nurturing family life. It suggests that when a country denies women an equal education, the nation's welfare suffers. Current strategies used to improve schooling for girls and women are examined in detail. The authors suggest an ambitious agenda for educating women. It seeks to close the gender gap by the next century. Published for The World Bank by The Johns Hopkins University Press. The Impact of Environmental Assessment, 1997-01-01. China is in the throes of two transitions from a command economy to a market-based one and from a rural agricultural society to an urban industrial one. So far, both transitions have been spectacularly successful. China is the fastest growing economy in the world with per capita incomes more than quadrupling since 1978, achieving in two generations what took other countries centuries. Although swift growth and structural change have resolved many problems, they also have created new challenges: employment insecurity, growing inequality, stubborn poverty, mounting environmental pressures, rising costs of food self-sufficiency, and periods of macroeconomic instability stemming from incomplete reforms. Unmet, these challenges could undermine the sustainability of growth and China's promise could fade. China 2020, a seven-volume set, examines China's recent history where it is today and the path it should follow during the first two decades of the 21st century. The volume in the set entitled Old Age Security Pension Reform in China highlights two severe difficulties with China's current pension system: the urgent and immediate problem of the pension burden placed on state-owned enterprises and the longer-term predicament arising from a rapidly aging population. State enterprises inherited heavy pension obligations from the central planning era. With the transition to a market economy, employment in the state enterprise sector is declining while the number of pensioners is rising rapidly. The study recommends a unified pension system that includes both mandatory funded individual accounts and a social insurance scheme. It also endorses a sustainable contribution rate that attaches considerable importance to long-term financial viability more than 60 years and examines the risks associated with low compliance rates and low interest rates.
