The Caring Relationship Hazel Qureshi, Alan Walker, 1989-10-13. This book takes a close look at family relationships at the end of the life cycle. Based on a representative sample of people aged 75 or more in a major British city, it investigates in depth what the caring relationship actually means to those elderly people and carers, mostly family members who are involved on a day-to-day basis. An important book for health and welfare professionals involved in planning and providing services.

A Healthy Old Age Stephanie Fall Creek, 1982. Human Services and the Media Edward Allan Brawley, 1995. This practical guide demonstrates how to work with newspapers, magazines, radio, and television to promote social programs and to shape public policy. It includes numerous examples of how cooperative efforts with the media have improved the public's understanding of the helping profession, educated the community about social problems, and spread preventive messages. An informed and supportive public at large is critical to the success of programs promoting health and mental health, and the mass media are the most powerful means of reaching the public. Yet few human services professionals know how to tap into this power.
