Democracy Without Decency William M. Epstein,2015-10-20 The conservative attacks on the welfare system in the United States over the past several decades have put liberal defenders of poverty relief and social insurance programs on the defensive In this no holds barred look at the reality of American social policy since World War II William Epstein argues that this defense is not worth mounting that the claimed successes of American social programs are not sustained by evidence Rather than their failure being the result of inadequate implementation or political resistance stemming from the culture wars these programs and their built in limitations actually do represent what the vast majority of people in this country want them to be However much people may speak in favor of welfare the proof of what they really want is in the pudding of the social policies that are actually legislated The stinginess of America s welfare system is the product of basic American values rooted in the myth of heroic individualism and reinforced by a commitment to social efficiency the idea that social services need to be minimal and compatible with current social arrangements Research Papers ,1977 Combat Poverty Agency Annual Report 1993 ,1994 The New Custodians of the State Genieys, William,2010 The New Custodians of the State uses contemporary France to reassess sociological theories of political and policymaking elites Based on detailed case studies drawn from social policy and national defense sectors it concludes that a new type of sectorally based elite has risen to prominence in France since the 1980s Genieys suggests that programmatic elites found in specific policy sectors made up of individuals linked both by common career paths and the resulting skills and expertise should be seen as new guardians of state power Like their technocratic predecessors programmatic elites maintain a high degree of independence with respect to electoral politics and to civil society like them they share an ideological commitment to protect and expand the role of the state in French society Unlike them however these new guardians of the state are structured around specific policy programs and limited in scope to a given sector Competition among programmatic elites at the highest levels of the state emerges as the chief driving force behind innovation for social change The New Custodians of the State introduces programmatic elites both as real world actors and as an analytic category and highlights the limits of elite power by analyzing the defeat of reform efforts by the French Ministry of Defense This book presents a thought provoking critical case study that suggests that models presenting either a single unified state elite or those that herald or decry the demise of the state require modification The work will be of interest to students and scholars of France and its society and government as well as anyone interested in the policymaking process in other countries with respect to domestic policy or national defense Jacket Choice ,1992 Human Service Organizations in Times of the COVID-19 Hillel Schmid,Itay Greenspan,2025-05-09 This book explores the ramifications of the COVID 19 pandemic crisis on human service organizations from an international perspective The pandemic is described as a disruptive extreme event that has resulted in extensive and intolerable physical psychological and material consequences for members and clients within human service organizations The chapters in this volume highlight the need for organizations to strengthen their resilience adapt to changing external circumstances and continue to serve their missions effectively They address the implications of a health and social pandemic on economic resilience changes in work technologies therapeutic intervention programs human resources organizational structure and social media tools used by human service organizations The eleven chapters of this volume cover seven countries representing diverse socio political cultural and economic systems ranging from the USA and the UK to Austria Bangladesh China and Israel The perspectives presented in these chapters offer a significant contribution to theory research and practice in the management of human service organizations during times of disruptive extreme events The chapters in this book were originally published in Human Service Organizations Management Leadership Governance
