Promoting Healthy Aging Across the Lifespan Elena Carrillo-Alvarez, Miriam Rodriguez-Monforte, Jordi Vilaró, Katherine Simone McGilton, 2024-12-26 Worldwide there is a generalized trend toward aged societies Between 2015 and 2050 the proportion of the world's population over 60 years will nearly double from 12% to 22% As life expectancy continues to increase and natality rates lower not only the composition of countries will change but also its health landscape However an increased life expectancy does not necessarily mean a healthy life In most high income countries more than 20% of those years are lived in ill health due to chronic conditions caused by non communicable diseases which compromises functional ability and well being key components of healthy aging In this way not only people's lives but also societal structures are being affected Based on the life course approach to healthy aging aging starts from conception In this regard the promotion of healthy aging requires preventive strategies that enhance capacities during growth and development maintain them for as long as possible after maturity and slow down their rate of decline Moreover considering healthy aging across the lifespan entails focusing on different factors life opportunities and choices that might significantly influence health status lifestyle as well as health and social inequalities in older age and challenges the focus of most research on the topic which exclusively investigates the effect of influences operating in the later stages of life

Old Age In Europe Kathrin Komp, Marja Aartsen, 2013-01-24 Europe currently is the oldest continent in the world and its population is still ageing This demographic shift affects society economy and welfare states Scholars from various disciplines and the public noted this development and wonder what effects it may have but lack adequate information They call for explanations that are concise and easily accessible The book at hand fills this lacuna It introduces readers to the most important developments theories concepts and discussions in ageing studies always keeping an eye on the current situation in Europe Each chapter adopts the perspective of a different discipline e g public health sociology economics or technology To make the explanations easy to understand the book includes learning tools such as learning objectives multiple choice questions and a glossary Living Arrangements of Older Persons in Canada Jacques Légaré, United Nations. Economic Commission for Europe, United Nations Population Fund, 1998 Three Social Science Disciplines in Central and Eastern Europe Max Kaase, Vera Sparschuh, Agnieszka Wenninger, 2002 The volume documents the development of economics political science and sociology in Central and Eastern Europe EU accession countries from 1989 to 2001 with a special emphasis on research Additionally the recent situation of anthropology demography and legal studies is reviewed though not in the same detail as the three disciplines mentioned first The book is dedicated to the enhancement of worldwide information and communication on Central and Eastern European social sciences the improvement of options for cooperation in comparative research involving CEE countries and the spread of information on and access to capable CEE social science research institutions A CD ROM enclosed in the handbook presents an overview on Central and Eastern European institutions in the respective countries relevant for economics political sciences and sociology about 700 institutions
