

The background of the entire slide is a photograph of a rock face. The rock is reddish-brown and has several horizontal cracks. On the rock, there are various ancient paintings. In the upper left, there are some faint, light-colored drawings that look like stylized plants or animals. In the lower left, there are more distinct drawings, including what appears to be a large animal, possibly a kangaroo or wallaby, and some smaller figures. In the lower right, there are several circular symbols, some with concentric rings, and some other small, indistinct drawings. The overall scene is outdoors, with some green foliage visible in the upper right corner.
