spent time as the Katherine Mansfield Fellow in Menton she reconsiders the past weaving personal reflection and experience with the history of the places where she lived particularly the fascinating northern settlements of Kerikeri and Waipu and further south the cities of Rotorua and Wellington Her story crosses paths with those of numerous different New Zealanders from the Tuhoe prophet Rua Kenana to descendants of the migration from Scotland led by a charismatic Presbyterian minister to other writers and significant friends We learn of Kidman s struggles to establish herself as a writer and to become part of different communities and how each worked their way into her fiction At the End of Darwin Road is a vivid memoir of place and family and of becoming a writer I was certain that I would continue to write if possible every day of my life The Auckland University Press Anthology of New Zealand Literature Jane Stafford, Mark Williams, 2013-11-01 From the earliest records of exploration and encounter to the globalized multicultural present this compilation features New Zealand s major writing from Polynesian mythology to the Yates Garden Guide from Allen Curnow to Alice Tawhai and from Wiremu Te Rangikaheke s letters to Katherine Mansfield s notebooks Including fiction nonfiction letters speeches novels stories comics and songs this imaginative selection provides new paths into New Zealand writing and culture The Threat Level Remains Severe Rowena Macdonald, 2017-07-10 Shortlisted for The Guardian s Not the Booker Prize The Threat Level Remains Severe charts the collision of three unlikely characters in a classically British novel A funny observational comedy Sunday Express Grace Ambrose Brett Beamish and Reuben Swift appear to have little in common but as each of them negotiates metropolitan life they find their fates entwined Arty liberal minded House of Commons secretary Grace has been counting the tea breaks in the same dull job for approaching a decade and feels she could do something better if only she knew what New recruit Brett a smooth high flying Australian is on a mission to shake up the dusty backrooms of power and on a collision path with Grace Office life begins to look up when Grace receives an email from an admirer with musical and poetic talents but is soulful enigmatic Reuben Swift really who he says he is All Day at the Movies Fiona Kidman, 2025-01-07 Plumes of flame pierced the night sky curling and licking and caressing the hurrying clouds and there was nothing anyone could do except watch the crop burn In 1952 war widow Irene Sandie takes up work in New Zealand s tobacco fields hoping to build a new life for herself and her daughter But this bold act of female self sufficiency triggers a sequence of events whose repercussions are still felt long after Irene s death Against a backdrop of immense social and political change Irene s four children lead disparate lives and learn how far family ties can bind or be lost forever With unflinching honesty and characteristic compassion Fiona Kidman deftly exposes the fragility of even the closest human relationships as she weaves together the narratives of a family and its changing fortunes across fifty years and three generations This Mortal Boy Fiona Kidman, 2025-01-21 The offender is not one of ours It is unfortunate that we got this undesirable from his homeland Auckland October 1955 If young Paddy Black sings to himself he can almost see himself back home in Belfast Yet less than two years after sailing across the globe in search of a better life here he stands in a prison cell awaiting trial for murder He pulled a knife at the jukebox that night but should his actions lead him to the gallows As his desperate mother waits on Paddy must face a judge and jury unlikely to favour an outsider as a wave of moral panic sweeps the island nation Fiona Kidman s powerful novel explores the controversial topic of the death penalty with characteristic empathy and a probing eye for injustice
