My Soul Is a Witness Mari N. Crabtree, 2023-01-10 An intimate look at the afterlife of lynching through the personal stories of Black victims and survivors who lived through and beyond its trauma Mari N Crabtree traces the long afterlife of lynching in the South through the traumatic memories it left in its wake She unearths how African American victims and survivors found ways to live through and beyond the horrors of lynching offering a theory of African American collective trauma and memory rooted in the ironic spirit of the blues sensibility a spirit of misdirection and cunning that blends joy and pain Black southerners often shielded their loved ones from the most painful memories of local lynchings with strategic silences but also told lynching stories about vengeful ghosts or a wrathful God or the deathbed confessions of a lyncher tormented by his past They protested lynching and its legacies through art and activism and they mourned those lost to a mob's fury They infused a blues element into their lynching narratives to confront traumatic memories and keep the blues at bay even if just for a spell Telling their stories troubles the simplistic binary of resistance or submission that has tended to dominate narratives of Black life and reminds us that amid the utter devastation of lynching were glimmers of hope and an affirmation of life Philosophising Experiences and Vision of the Female Body, Mind, and Soul: Historical Context and Contemporary Theory Musingafi, Maxwell Constantine Chando, Mafumbate, Racheal, Khumalo, Thandi Fredah, 2021-04-23

Much of our understanding of the world our societies and ourselves rests on theories and knowledge generated predominantly by men of certain nationalities and economic classes This male dominated and culturally specific theorizing and knowledge have generally resulted in the exclusion of women and other groups from the process of formal theorizing and knowledge building Feminism argues that the male dominated knowledge represents a skewed perception of reality and is only partial knowledge Feminism is a generalized wide ranging system of ideas about social life and human experience developed from a woman centered perspective It treats women as the central subjects in the investigative process and seeks to see the world from the distinctive vantage points of women in the social world The best way to empower women and better the situation for women is to take women s daily experiences and their informal theorizing into account and on this basis adopt feminist approaches to building theory and knowledge Philosophising Experiences and Vision of the Female Body Mind and Soul Historical Context and Contemporary Theory provides an overview and introduction to the study of feminist theory and practice in the social sciences This book provides a starting point for further and more advanced study of the nexus of feminism gender and development and translates feminist theory and concepts into practice The chapters investigate in a historical context mainstream and contemporary theories of feminism and gender studies This book is ideal for post graduate students of social science researchers of development management business management public governance and gender and development activists feminists and practitioners stakeholders researchers academicians and students interested in feminist theory and knowledge building
