colonised peoples and territories to the metropole was a strategic necessity but also a dynamic which Paris struggled to control. The language of reform and equality was seized upon locally to make claims on metropolitan resources and wrest away the political initiative. Intertwined with coercion and violence, the struggle to define what modernisation would mean for colonised societies was a key factor in the wider process of decolonisation. Contributions by leading specialists extend geographically from Africa to the Pacific and to metropolitan France itself, examining a range of topics including education, policy, colonial knowledge production, rural development and slum clearance.

Reconceiving Identities in Political Economy
 Laura Doyle, Simon Gikandi, Mwangi wa Githĩnji, 2025-04-10

Reconceiving Identities in Political Economy comprises one volume in an unprecedented three volume set collectively subtitled Decolonial Reconstellations. Together with Volume One Dynamics of Deep Time and Deep Place and Volume Two Dissolving Master Narratives, it gathers thinkers from across world regions and disciplines who reconfigure critical global thought. Collaboratively conceived, the volumes are founded on the observation that we cannot fully uproot the epistemological material violence of coercive systems nor fully re-imagine more ethical visions of planetary community without shared attention to the deeper histories of place and peoples that shape the present. Accordingly, the volumes gather social scientists and humanists, Indigenous and non-Indigenous scholars and intersectional and materialist thinkers who reconceptualize longue durée history and its afterlives. They engage in the dual project to dismantle eurocentric colonial and androcentric frameworks and to make visible the legacies of care and creative world-making that have sustained human communities. Uncovering pasts that are as complex and dynamic as the present, the contributors brilliantly transform notions of temporality, relationality, polity, conjuncture, resistance and experimentation within histories of struggle and alliance. They richly decolonize political imaginaries. The co-editors' introductions articulate fresh frameworks of deep place and deep time, freed from eurocentric modernity paradigms, indicating pathways toward decolonial collaboration and institutional change. Decolonial Reconstellations offers invaluable resources for researchers and teachers in decolonial, postcolonial, anti-colonial and Indigenous studies and will also strongly appeal to feminist, anti-racist, Marxist and critical theory scholars across disciplines.
