The Lions Share A Short History Of British Imperialism 1850 197:

The Lion's Share Bernard Porter, 2004 This textbook combines a lively narrative of events with a number of broad analytical themes that challenge more conventional interpretations of British imperialism including a new concluding section on the legacy of empire Modernism and the Ideology of History Louise Blakeney Williams, 2002-07-04 Louise Williams explores the nature of historical memory in the work of five major Modernists Yeats Pound Hulme Ford and Lawrence These Modernists Williams argues started their careers with historical assumptions derived from the nineteenth century But their views on the universal structure of history on the abandonment of progress and the adoption of a cyclical sense of the past were the result of important conflicts and changes within the Modernist period Williams focuses on the period immediately before World War I and shows in detail how Modernism developed and why it is considered a unique intellectual movement She also revisits the theory that the Edwardian age was a difficult period of transition to the modern world Finally she illuminates the contribution of non Western culture to the literature and thought of the period This wide ranging and interdisciplinary study is essential reading for literary and cultural historians of the modernist period Power, Profit and Politics: Volume 15, Part 3 Christopher Baker, Gordon Johnson, Anil Seal, 2009-10-15 The essays in this book were originally published together as a special issue of the Journal of Modern Asian Studies released in July 1981 They are reprinted here in their entirety The essays are concerned with the ways in which Britain's imperial connection with India impinged upon the political economic and social development of the subcontinent in the first half of the twentieth century British Concepts of Heroic "Gallantry" and the Sixties Transition Matthew J. Lord, 2021-05-03 This book examines the relationship between concepts of heroic gallantry as projected by the British honours system and the sociocultural political military and international transitions of the supposed Sixties cultural revolution In so doing it considers how a conservative hierarchical and state orientated concept both evolved and endured during a period of immense change in which traditional assumptions of deference to elites were increasingly challenged Covering the period often defined as The Long Sixties from 1955-79 this study concentrates on four distinct transitions undergone by both state and non state gallantry awards including developments within the welfare state class and gender discrimination counterinsurgency and decolonisation It ultimately sheds fresh light upon the importance of postwar decades to the continued evolution of concepts of gallantry and heroism in British culture using a range of underexplored government and media archives It will be of interest to scholars students and general researchers of heroism in modern Britain the Sixties revolution postwar military history and both the social and political evolution of British honours decorations and medals Men Getting Married in England, 1918-60 Neil Penlington, 2023-03-31 Starting after the Great War this book charts the rise of the ritualistic engagement the modern white wedding and the more widely available honeymoon holiday to show changes and continuities in English masculinity by considering power relations between men and women Through a close reading of a range of sources including first person testimonies newspapers and etiquette manuals power relations between bride and groom and between different generations are revealed in the context of social class and the rise of consumerism

Writing the History of Slavery David Stefan Doddington, Enrico Dal Lago, 2022-01-13 Exploring the major historiographical theoretical and methodological approaches that have shaped studies on slavery this addition to the Writing History series highlights the varied ways that historians have approached the fluid and complex systems of human bondage domination and exploitation that have developed in societies across the world The first part examines more recent attempts to place slavery in a global context touching on contexts such as religion empire and capitalism In its second part the book looks closely at the key themes and methods that emerge as historians reckon with the dynamics of historical slavery These range from politics economics and quantitative analyses to race and gender to psychohistory history from below and many more Throughout examples of slavery and its impact are considered across time and place in Ancient Greece and Rome Medieval Europe colonial Asia Africa and the Americas and trades throughout the Atlantic and Indian Oceans Also taken into account are thinkers from Antiquity to the 20th century and the impact their ideas have had on the subject and the debates that follow This book is essential reading for students and scholars at all levels who are interested in not only the history of slavery but in how that history has come to be written and how its debates have been framed across civilizations

A Frozen Field of Dreams, Science, Strategy, and the Antarctic in Norway, Sweden, and the British Empire, 1912-1952 Peder William Chellew Roberts, 2010 The dissertation examines how actors in Norway Sweden and the British Empire conceived the Antarctic as a space for science during the years 1912 to 1952 Instead of tracing a narrative of enlightenment how science became the dominant form of activity in the Antarctic I examine a series of episodes with particular attention to why particular kinds of science held sway within specific political cultural and economic contexts Concerned more with how Antarctic science was planned and justified than how it was executed in the field the project draws upon recent scholarship in geography and geopolitics as well as the history of exploration The six case studies involve an aborted Anglo Swedish Antarctic expedition in 1912 Britain's interwar Antarctic whaling research program debates among whaling magnates and their associates over the relationship between Antarctic science and whaling in interwar Norway the culture of polar exploration that emerged at Cambridge and to some extent Oxford between the world wars the approach to polar exploration and quantitative glaciology pioneered by the Swedish geographer Hans Ahlmann and the complicated history of the Norwegian British Swedish Antarctic Expedition 1949-52 I conclude with an epilogue arguing that the rise of international science in the Antarctic during the 1950s reflected the geopolitical dynamics of the Cold War rather than the triumph of science over politics

Cold War Stories Andrew Hammond, 2017-08-28 This book is the first comprehensive study of mainstream British dystopian fiction and the Cold War Drawing on over 200 novels and collections of short stories the monograph explores the ways in which dystopian texts charted the lived experiences of the period offering an extended analysis of authors concerns about the geopolitical present and anxieties about the national future Amongst the topics addressed are the processes of Cold War autocracy militarism propaganda intelligence nuclear technologies the decline of Britain's standing in global politics and the reduced status of intellectual culture in Cold War Britain Although the focus is on dystopianism in the work of mainstream authors including George Orwell Doris Lessing J G Ballard Angela Carter and Anthony Burgess a number of science fiction novels are also discussed making the book relevant to a wide range of researchers and students of twentieth century British literature

The Lion's Share Bernard Porter, 2014-06-11 As well as presenting a lively narrative of events Bernard Porter explores a number of broad analytical themes challenging more conventional and popular interpretations He sees imperialism as a symptom not of Britain's strength in the world but of her decline and he argues that the empire itself both aggravated and obscured deep seated malaise in the British economy

Social-Imperialism in Britain Neil Redfern, 2018-09-24 In Social Imperialism in Britain Neil Redfern examines the relationship between British labour and British capital in the two world wars of the twentieth century He argues that the Second World War the so called People's War no less than the First World War was an imperialist war He further argues that in both wars labour and capital entered into a social imperialist contract in which labour would be rewarded for its support for war with such social and political reforms as votes for women and a health service culminating in the welfare state constructed after the Second World War Concentrating on Lancashire he examines the complex interaction between military successes and reverses elite war aims labour unrest and popular demands for reform
