The Literary Field Of Twentieth Century China:

The Literary Field of Twentieth Century China Michel Hockx, 2019-05-08 At least since the late nineteenth century onwards Chinese literature as a form of cultural production has been taking place within a specific social space including writers critics journalists editors publishers printers and booksellers Focusing on people as well as on texts and looking at what writers did as well as at what they wrote the essays in this volume draw a vivid and variegated picture of Chinese literary life throughout the modern period The book treats differences between periods but also traces the continuities that have characterised modern Chinese literary practice and its discourses from the beginning to the present including ties of allegiance utilisation of the people and appropriation of the west The book places modern Chinese literature firmly within its socio historical context thereby increasing the reader's awareness of the hidden assumptions behind literary production In doing so it opens new perspectives on Chinese culture as a whole and on literature as a cosmopolitan concept Bourdieu and the Literary Field Jeremy Ahearne, 2020-03-31 No detailed description available for Bourdieu and the Literary Field

China's Literary and Cultural Scenes at the Turn of the 21st Century Jie Lu, 2013-10-18 China's literary and cultural production at the turn of the twenty first century is marked by heterogeneity plurality and diversity Given its complexity the literary cultural production of this period perhaps can be understood most productively as a response to a global modernity that has touched and transformed all aspects of contemporary Chinese reality The eleven essays in this book offer an introduction to some of the most important works published at the turn of the twenty first century In combining textual analysis of specific works with theoretical insights and in locating the texts in their sociocultural and socioeconomic contexts the essays explore key theoretical issues and intellectual concerns of the time They collectively draw a broad contour of new developments major trends and radical changes capturing the intellectual and cultural Zeitgeist of the age All in all these essays offer new theoretical approaches to and critical perspectives on contemporary Chinese literature and culture The Yusi Society and the Literary Field of Early Twentieth-century China Mark William Miller, 1997 Digital

China Jessica Imbach, 2025-10-01 Over the past decade digital technologies have profoundly reshaped the Chinese cultural landscape With a focus on the creative agency of new media and online communities this volume examines this development through the notion of the Sinocybersphere the networked spaces across the globe that not only operate on the Chinese script but also imaginatively negotiate the meanings of Chinese culture in the digital age Instead of asking what makes the internet or new media Chinese the chapters situate contemporary entanglements of cultural and digital practices within specific historical social and discursive contexts Covering topics as diverse as live streaming AI poetry online literature poetry memes cyberpunk fiction virtual art exhibitions cooking videos censorship and viral translations the collection as a whole not only engages with a wide range of Chinese new media phenomena but also demonstrates their relevance to our understanding of contemporary digital culture The New Woman in Early Twentieth-century Chinese Fiction Jin Feng, 2004 Jin Feng proposes that representation of the new woman in Communist Chinese fiction of the earlier twentieth century was paradoxically one of the ways in which male writers of the era explored negotiated and laid claim to their own emerging identity as modern intellectuals Mediasphere Shanghai Alexander Des Forges, 2007-07-31 For many in the west Shanghai is the quintessence of East Asian modernity whether imagined as glamorous and exciting corrupt and impoverishing or a complex synthesis of the good the bad and the ugly How did Shanghai acquire this power How did people across China and around the world decide that Shanghai was the place to be Mediasphere Shanghai shows that partial answers to these questions can be found in the products of Shanghai's media industry particularly the Shanghai novel a distinctive genre of installment fiction that flourished from the 1890s to the 1930s Shanghai fiction supplies not only the imagery that we now consider typical of the city but more significantly the very forms simultaneity interruption mediation and excess through which the city could be experienced as a business and entertainment center and envisioned as the focal point of a mediasphere with a national and transnational reach Existing paradigms of Shanghai culture tend to explain the city's distinctive literary and visual aesthetics as merely the predictable result of economic conditions and social processes but Alexander Des Forges maintains that literary texts and other cultural products themselves constitute a conceptual foundation for the city and construct the frame through which it is perceived Working from a wide range of sources including installment fiction photographs lithographic illustrations maps guidebooks newspapers and film Des Forges demonstrates the significant social effects of aesthetic forms and practices Mediasphere Shanghai offers a new perspective on the cultural history of the city and on the literature and culture of modern China in general The Making of Chinese-Sinophone Literatures as World Literature Kuei-fen Chiu, Yingjin Zhang, 2021-12-21 In The Making of Chinese Sinophone Literatures as World Literature Kuei fen Chiu and Yingjin Zhang aim to bridge the distance between the scholarship of world literature and that of Chinese and Sinophone literary studies This edited volume advances research on world literature by bringing in new developments in Chinese Sinophone literatures and adds a much needed new global perspective on Chinese literary studies beyond the traditional national literature paradigm and its recent critique by Sinophone studies In addition to a critical mapping of the domains of world literature Sinophone literature and world literature in Chinese to delineate the nuanced differences of these three disciplines the book addresses the issues of translation genre and the impact of media and technology on our understanding of literature and literary prestige It also provides critical studies of the complicated ways in which Chinese and Sinophone literatures are translated received and reinvested across various genres and media and thus circulate as world literature The issues taken up by the contributors to this volume promise fruitful polemical interventions in the studies of world literature from the vantage point of Chinese and Sinophone literatures An outstanding volume full of insights with chapters by leading scholars from an admirable range of perspectives Chiu and Zhang's The Making of Chinese Sinophone Literatures as World Literature expertly integrates Chinese and Sinophone studies with world literature scholarship opening numerous possibilities for future analyses of literature media and cultural history Karen L Thornber Harvard University This book is at once the best possible introduction to recent debates on world literature from the perspective of Chinese Sinophone literatures and a summa critica that thinks through their transcultural drives global travels varied worldings and translational forces The comparative perspectives gathered here accomplish the necessary and urgent task of reconfiguring both the idea of the world in world literature and the ways we study the inscriptions of Chinese Sinophone literatures in the world Mariano Siskind Harvard University

The Columbia Companion to Modern East Asian Literature Joshua S. Mostow, 2003-07-10 This extraordinary one volume guide to the modern literatures of China Japan and Korea is the definitive reference work on the subject in the English language With more than one hundred articles that show how a host of authors and literary movements have contributed to the general literary development of their respective countries this companion is an essential starting point for the study of East Asian literatures Comprehensive thematic essays introduce each geographical section with historical overviews and surveys of persistent themes in the literature examined including nationalism gender family relations and sexuality Following the thematic essays are the individual entries over forty for China over fifty for Japan and almost thirty for Korea featuring everything from detailed analyses of the works of Tanizaki Jun ichiro and Murakami Haruki to far ranging explorations of avant garde fiction in China and postwar novels in Korea Arrayed chronologically each entry is self contained though extensive cross referencing affords readers the opportunity to gain a more synoptic view of the work author or movement The unrivaled opportunities for comparative analysis alone make this unique companion an indispensable reference for anyone interested in the burgeoning field of Asian literature Although the literatures of China Japan and Korea are each allotted separate sections the editors constantly kept an eye open to those writers works and movements that transcend national boundaries This includes for example Chinese authors who lived and wrote in Japan Japanese authors who wrote in classical Chinese and Korean authors who write in Japanese whether under the colonial occupation or because they are resident in Japan The waves of modernization can be seen as reaching each of these countries in a staggered fashion with eddies and back flows between them then complicating the picture further This volume provides a vivid sense of this dynamic interplay

A Companion to Modern Chinese Literature Yingjin Zhang, 2015-08-13 This wide ranging Companion provides a vital overview of modern Chinese literature in different geopolitical areas from the 1840s to now It reviews major accomplishments of Chinese literary scholarship published in Chinese and English and brings attention to previously neglected important areas Offers the most thorough and concise coverage of modern Chinese literature to date drawing attention to previously neglected areas such as late Qing Sinophone and ethnic minority literature Several chapters explore literature in relation to Sinophone geopolitics regional culture urban culture visual culture print media and new media The introduction and two chapters furnish overviews of the institutional development of modern Chinese literature in Chinese and English scholarship since the mid twentieth century Contributions from leading literary scholars in mainland China and Hong Kong add their voices to international scholarship
