David Spadafora, James Spada

The Logic Of Millennial Thought Eighteenth Century New England:

The Logic of Millennial Thought James West Davidson, 1977 Law and Providence in Joseph Bellamy's New England Mark R. Valeri, 1994 Bellamy was New England's consummate theologian of evangelical Calvinism. He conceived the New Divinity movement based on innovations on Edwards's teachings and from 1750 to 1775 enjoyed renown as a popular preacher, controversialist, leader of church affairs in New England, and influential teacher of other pastors. Set in the context of an emergent market economy, the war against France, and the politics of rebellion, Bellamy's story illuminates the relationship between religion and public issues in colonial New England and shows how Calvinism spoke to the concerns of ordinary New Englanders during momentous transformations in America's religious, social, and political life. The Idea of Progress in Eighteenth-century Britain David Spadafora, James Spada, 1990-01-01 The idea of progress stood at the very center of the intellectual world of eighteenth-century Britain, closely linked to every major facet of the British Enlightenment as well as to the economic revolutions of the period. Drawing on hundreds of eighteenth-century books and pamphlets, David Spadafora here provides the most extensive discussion ever written of this prevailing sense of historical optimism. The Continuum History of Apocalypticism Bernard McGinn, John J. Collins, Stephen Stein, 2003-10-01 Apocalypticism has been the source of hope and courage for the oppressed but has also given rise on many occasions to fanaticism and intolerance. The essays in this volume seek neither to apologize for the extravagance of apocalyptic thinkers nor to excuse the perverse actions of some of their followers. Rather, they strive to understand a powerful, perhaps even indispensable element in the history of Western religions that has been the source of both good and evil and still is yet today. The Editors. The Continuum History of Apocalypticism is a 1-volume select edition of the 3-volume Encyclopedia of Apocalypticism first published in 1998. The main historical surveys that provided the spine of the Encyclopedia have been retained, while essays of a thematic nature and a few whose subject matter is not central to the historical development have been omitted. The work begins with 8 articles on The Origins of Apocalypticism in the Ancient World, extending from ancient Near Eastern myth through the Old Testament to the Dead Sea Scrolls, Jesus, Paul, and the Book of Revelation. Next are 7 articles on Apocalyptic Traditions from Late Antiquity to ca. 1800 C.E., including early Christian theology, radical movements in the Middle Ages, and both Jewish and Islamic apocalypticism in the classic period. The final section, Apocalypticism in the Modern Age, includes 10 articles on apocalypticism in the Americas, in Western and Eastern Europe, and finally in modern Judaism and modern Islam. Early American Literature and Culture Kathryn Zabelle Derounian-Stodola, 1992 Early American Literature and Culture: Essays Honoring Harrison T. Meserole is a timely collection that reflects changing conceptions of the field. It contains studies by leading scholars and celebrates the achievements of Harrison T. Meserole, colonialist bibliographer and Shakespeare scholar extraordinaire. These dynamic essays deal with areas at the forefront of current research, such as popular culture, minority and non-Anglo writings, recanonization, genre studies, and Anglo-American links. All the contributors were Meserole's students.
