The Long Road Home:

The Long Road Home Vernon E. Davis, 2000 Contains a history of the United States role in shaping prisoner of war policy during the Vietnam War Reveals the difficult often emotional and vexing nature of a problem that engaged the attention of the highest officials of the United States government Examines frictions and disagreements between the State and Defense Departments and within Defense itself as a sometimes conflicted organization struggled to cope with an imposing array of policy issues The Long Road Home... Richard McKenzie Neal, 2009-11 By this point in our lives my target readers we've all heard the old adage You can't go home But what does it mean As life winds down and the drone of existence begins to wane I'm feeling an intangible desire or need to reach back into my past and reconnect with a bygone time and people living and or dead It feels like an elusive melody that seems distantly familiar yet strange and unidentifiable If all the above sounds like a premonition of the inevitable I agree and accept that my time is ticking away But it's not about dying it's about going home I'm not afraid of dying but I do struggle with the reality that I will no longer physically exist I have to wonder if the term going home isn't a misnomer and maybe just maybe we're trying to return to Neverland Fridays With Landon When we were very young we searched for that elusive utopian community and studies have shown that in our declining years we slowly revert to our childhood Another line of thought is that it's all just a mirage We know and accept that a man can be dying of thirst in the middle of the driest desert and his mind will anesthetize him by creating the illusion of an oasis If we can acknowledge that phenomenon the mind's coping mechanism then it shouldn't be much of a stretch to reason that the elderly possess those same innate coping capabilities to ease their journey home Of course their mirage would be about going home not to a place but to another time What is the driver for this apparently universal pilgrimage I have to wonder even compare it to an addict's motivation The Path to Addiction one more trip down that path of pleasant memories even as the host is being sacrificed The Long Road Home Joann B. Namorato, 2002 That fateful September morning started out like any other The skies were a gorgeous blue nothing like the gray hell they would appear hours later Joann Namorato was only working in Downtown Manhattan to help alleviate some of the costs of putting two of her three children through college Despite the financial ease that working in New York City would provide she feared that a terrorist bombing like the one in 1993 would occur However after consulting with friends and family she came to the conclusion that a second attack on the same location was highly unlikely The Long Road Home is an eyewitness account of the events of September 11 2001 through the eyes and heart of a woman whose greatest fear was taking place right in front of her Was it possible that the heart wrenching lessons of courage she had learned during her painful childhood turned out to be the overwhelming factor in guiding her out of the city that day Follow us through this woman's incredible life journey and see how the events of 9/11/01 have changed her life and the lives of so many others forever The Long Road Home Lori Wick, 2005-01-01 She can't be dead the young pastor cried as he looked down at the still white face of his new bride Blinded by bitterness Paul Cameron leaves his church and flees to a logging camp deep in the north woods of Wisconsin There he wrestles with his loss unable to get Corrine out of his mind and unwilling to make peace with God When a falling tree crushes his legs Paul can run no further Broken now in body as well as spirit he must face his own heart as he encounters the love of God in the patient care of his nurse Abigail Finlayson The Long Road Home touches shattered dreams with God's faithfulness and the possibility of new love in this turn of the century romance

The Long Road Home Koba Sharikov,2015-11-06 Koba Sharikov is a truly dauntless man who has achieved many things in spite of the difficulties he has faced and has made the impossible become possible Abandoned at birth to an orphanage in the midst of World War II Sharikov's story reveals the true diversity of human life from larceny to love loss and boatbuilding His is a life lived to its full potential where education both formal and informal became a passport to adventure I had a dream to live a life with no poetry unwritten no song unsung and no painting left unpainted so that at the end I could claim that all has been said and done These pages scratch the surface of a life lived with vigour and enthusiasm and take the reader on a vivid and inspiring journey Follow Sharikov's transformation from the small boy who took sanctuary amid the roots of a tree near his orphanage to the man who moved on to provide similar roots to orphaned African children His life's story is truly a testimony to his motto more is in me

The Long Road Home Debra Thompson,2022-09-06 INSTANT BESTSELLER FINALIST FOR THE HILARY WESTON WRITERS TRUST PRIZE FOR NONFICTION From a leading scholar on the politics of race comes a work of family history memoir and insight gained from a unique journey across the continent on what it is to be Black in North America When Debra Thompson moved to the United States in 2010 she felt like she was returning to the land of her ancestors those who had escaped to Canada via the Underground Railroad But her decade long journey across Canada and the US transformed her relationship to both countries and to the very idea of home In The Long Road Home Thompson follows the roots of Black identities in North America and the routes taken by those who have crisscrossed the world's longest undefended border in search of freedom and belonging She begins in Shrewsbury Ontario one of the termini of the Underground Railroad and the place where members of her own family found freedom More than a century later Thompson still feels the echoes and intergenerational trauma of North American slavery She was often the Only One the only Black person in so many white spaces in a country that perpetuates the national mythology of multiculturalism Then she revisits her four American homes each of which reveals something peculiar about the relationship between American racism and democracy Boston Massachusetts the birthplace of the American Revolution Athens Ohio where the white working class and the white liberal meet Chicago Illinois the great Black metropolis and Eugene Oregon the western frontier She then moves across the border and settles in Montreal a unique city with a long history of transnational Black activism but one that does not easily accept the unfamiliar and the foreign into the fold The Long Road Home is a moving personal story and a vital examination of the nuances of racism in the United States and Canada Above all it is about the power of freedom and the dreams that link and inspire Black people across borders from the perspective of one who has deep ties to critiques of and hope for both countries
