The Living Classroom Writing Reading Amp Beyond:

The Living Classroom David Armington, 1997 This book describes the special way one teacher Jeanette Amidon approaches children's thinking with a particular focus on reading and writing instruction The root value of her first grade classroom in Massachusetts is respect for children's ideas with the children's art and writing as visible signs of the teacher's respect for their thinking This teacher's example can be used to support the case for a broad cultural view of teaching in which teaching children is not only or mainly the challenge of imparting specific skills but rather a whole approach to living together as a small provisional classroom community dedicated to the development of ideas Important points in Jeanette Amidon's approach include that children learn well from experiences in which they have a vital stake and some genuine interest that high quality learning involves authentic performance writing for example should be a means of saying something an individual wants or needs to say to some audience not a school exercise that a certain amount of curriculum should arise from a continuous reconstruction of experience generated by the ongoing activities of children that capitalizing on individual differences is important and that collective learning is powerful Following an introduction the book's chapters are 1 Jeanette's Classroom An Action Report by a Frequent Visitor 2 Learning to Talk in a New Language Children's Inventions as a Stimulus to Writing 3 A Lot on Their Minds A Closer Look at the Work of the Children 4 The Larger Picture We Talk with Jeanette about Children Learning and Teaching 5 Reflections and Epilogue Contains 32 annotated references EV

Teaching Reading and Writing Beyond High-stakes Testing Rongrong Dong, 2023-03-10 This book tells about an exemplary high school Chinese language arts teacher's effort in nurturing lifelong readers and writers under the test driven culture in China's society It looks closely at his everyday literacy practices focuses on his ways of creating authentic reading and writing spaces for students beyond test preparation With the lens of social constructivism the case study reveals his efforts of creating safe learning environment modeling his literate life connecting real life with literacy learning and building a school wide literate life for students Furthermore he also collaborates with other Chinese language arts faculty and reaches out to school administrators and educators to gain any potential teaching resource for students The findings indicate exemplary teachers are not only equipped with professional knowledge but also inter intrapersonal knowledge and practical knowledge in their teaching career which might be enlightening in today's high stakes testing culture The book will appeal to scholars of literacy education and teacher education as well as pre service and in service teachers

Resources in Education, 2000 Deaf Education Beyond the Western World Harry Knoors, Maria Brons, Marc Marschark, 2019-01-16 If teachers want to educate deaf learners effectively they have to apply evidence informed methods and didactics with the needs of individual deaf students in mind Education in general and education for deaf learners in particular is situated in broader societal contexts where what works within the Western world may be quite different from what works beyond the Western world By exploring practice based and research based evidence about deaf education in countries that largely have been left out of the international discussion thus far this volume encourages more researchers in more countries to continue investigating the learning environment of deaf learners based on the premise of leaving no one behind Featuring chapters centering on 19 countries from Africa Asia Latin America and Central and Eastern Europe the volume offers a picture of deaf education from the perspectives of local scholars and teachers who demonstrate best practices and challenges within their respective regional contexts This volume addresses the notion of learning through the exchange of knowledge outlines the commonalities and differences between practices and policies in educating deaf and hard of hearing learners and looks ahead to the prospects for the future development of deaf education research in the context of recently adopted international legal frameworks Stimulating academic exchange regionally and globally among scholars and teachers who are fascinated by and invested in deaf education this volume strengthens the foundation for further improvement of education for deaf children all around the world

Beyond the Five-paragraph Essay Kimberly Hill Campbell, Kristi Latimer, 2012 Love it or hate it the five paragraph essay is perhaps the most frequently taught form of writing in classrooms of yesterday and today But have you ever actually seen five paragraph essays outside of school walls Have you ever found it in business writing journalism nonfiction or any other genres that exist in the real world Kimberly Hill Campbell and Kristi Latimer reviewed the research on the effectiveness of the form as a teaching tool and discovered that the research does not support the five paragraph formula In fact research shows that the formula restricts creativity emphasizes structure rather than content does not improve standardized test scores inadequately prepares students for college writing and results in vapid writing In Beyond the Five Paragraph Essay Kimberly and Kristi show you how to reclaim the literary essay and create a program that encourages thoughtful writing in response to literature They provide numerous strategies that stimulate student thinking value unique insight and encourage lively personal writing including the following Close reading which is the basis for writing about literature Low stakes writing options that support students thinking as they read Collaboration in support of discussion debate and organizational structures that support writing as exploration A focus on students writing process as foundational to content development and structure The use of model texts to write in the form of the literature students are reading and analyzing The goal of reading and writing about literature is to push and challenge our students thinking We want students to know that their writing can convey something important a unique view to share defend prove delight discover and inspire If we want our students to be more engaged skilled writers we need to move beyond the five paragraph essay
